Johnson Asks Unity In Creation of Jobs

First Primary May Result in GOP Surprises

Many Republicans In New Hampshire Appear Undecided

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A cloud of indecision which could have a telling effect on the choice of the Republican presidential nominee hung heavily today over the outcome of Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

There was widespread evidence that a significant number of Republicans who will go to the polls Tuesday to mark one of the more complex ballots in presidential preference primary history still are debating their choice.

This highlighted an invitation for upsets in a contest which Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., once was supposed to win handily in a battle with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Gains Seen for Lodge Though Rockefeller and Goldwater seemed likely to pace the field of five official and two write-in entries, partisans thought that Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, might come up to challenge them.

Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 presidential nominee, were represented in write-in campaigns. If these were successful in gaining a substantial share of the nearly 100,000 Republican votes expected to be cast, it could project them forcefully into the presidential nomination contest.

For Goldwater, the conservative, and Rockefeller, the moderate, there was the psychological need to win this contest, and former President Harry S. Truman would head the American delegation to the funeral.

Biggest Manpower Problem Offers Challenge to Nation, President Says in Message

BY NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today to mobilize and upgrade its manpower skills in a major effort to wipe out grimly persistent unemployment.

"Overcoming that unemployment is the greatest immediate manpower challenge before us," Johnson said in asking Congress for a broad range of legislation to create jobs and train workers.

The federal government cannot do the job alone, Johnson said in his annual manpower report to Congress.

Urges United Effort Calling on business, labor and state and local governments to cooperate in creating an "active manpower policy," the President said: "These programs will take hold and succeed only when we become determined that nothing is to take priority over people."

Johnson's report was accompanied by Labor Department statistics emphasizing the plight of the poorly educated worker in an increasingly technical economy, and the alarmingly high rate of youths who can't find work.

Johnson's message was underscored by latest government figures showing that 800,000 new jobs in February did nothing to dent the nation's 4.5 million jobless total.

Affected by Automation The reason is the steadily growing flow of new workers into the labor market, particularly youths. Automated machinery that shrinks job opportunities also plays a part.

Johnson announced "two new major administrative actions" to study the impact of automation, and "to start a continuing top-level assessment of the relation of the government's programs and our country's manpower assets and needs."

He asked Congress to enact pending legislation dealing with youth unemployment, education extension of labor laws to include more workers and increased and broadened unemployment insurance.

Johnson will ask Congress to lower the draft age from 18 to 17 to give his "war on poverty" a chance to aid needy youngsters a year earlier, an official source reported today.

Special Work Schools These subjects for the war on poverty, the source said, will be the 500,000 each year who fail the Army's General Classification Test. They will be given a chance to enter special

National Guard May be Target Of McNamara

Defense Secretary Likely to Propose New Economy Move

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who made the Army National Guard swallow one major streamlining, may take aim at the politically potent guard again in an effort to cut costs.

Indications point to such a move after the November elections.

Informed sources said McNamara has shown increasing skepticism about the value of Guard and Reserve units that would not be ready for use in emergencies, but would be mobilized only in event of a long war.

This could put in jeopardy 15 National Guard infantry and armor divisions and 6 Reserve infantry divisions which now have a lower priority—fewer men and less modern equipment.

Resistance Certain The states and Guard Reserve backers and Congress could be expected to battle any drive to reduce these forces even further.

Costs about $7 million a day, Army officials maintain the low-priority outfits for a year, or a total of $147 million annually.

In so doing, the court laid down a constitutional standard that a public official may not recover damages for a de libelation.

A little more than a year ago the Guard ran up the surrender flag after its state chiefs and a group of governors unsuccessfully sought a drastic overhaul.

In that reorganization, four National Guard and four Reserve divisions, plus 731 smaller units, were dropped from the rolls as unneeded or obsolete.

Separate Opinions Justices Hugo L. Black and Arthur J. Goldberg, in separate concurring opinions, expressed regret that the court did not lay down a doctrine of unconditional freedom of the public and press to criticize official conduct.

Justice William O. Douglas noted that he agreed with both concurring opinions.

The libel suit was based on publication of an advertisement in the Times of March 29, 1960. The advertisement contained statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations in Montgomery.

British, U.N. Peace Bids Are Ignored

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Warring Greek and Turkish Cypriots hammered at each other with mortars, automatic weapons and armored bulldozers at Ktima in western Cyprus today. They ignored U.N. and British truce force attempts to halt the fighting.

Fires started by shelling raged unchecked in the area. Greek Cypriot authorities said one member of their security forces was killed. There was no report on Turkish casualties, but the British army said five Turkish Cypriot hostages were killed in a major streamlining, may take aim at the politically potent guard again in an effort to cut costs.

The two-engine plane crashed through utility lines and into a home in a residential district in suburban Hoffman Estates. Six persons in the home asleep on the second floor miraculously escaped injury. They were rescued by firemen and hospitalized for shock.

The passengers, 23 men and women, walked from the plane minutes after it plowed through the rear of the two-story bi-level home of Victor Golubski. There was no fire. The plane did not overturn but part of a wing was ripped off as it landed.

Barney Ross Tells About Ruby as Boy

Says He 'Used to Steam Up, Turn Purple' in Arguments

BY REILMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP) — Barney Ross, former world welterweight boxing champion, testified today that Jack Ruby as a teen-age boy "used to steam up and turn purple" when anyone disagreed with him.

Ross said he knew Ruby in Chicago when they were boys.

The former boxer was the second witness as the fourth week of Ruby's murder trial began. Ruby is charged with murder with malice for having shot down Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Ross said he and Ruby grew up on Chicago's West Side. He said he and the accused man were members of what he called "the group," a band of about 12 boys.

No Trouble With Police He pictured Ruby as a youth who "flew into tantrums" over trifles. He said, "we knew he would steam up pretty quick and we used to protect him."

Ross said that so far as he knew Ruby had never had any trouble with the police.

Chief defense counsel Melvin

Belli asked Ross if Ruby was given to using profanity.

The ex-boxer replied in the negative.

Belli asked if the phrase, "son of a bitch," was commonly used by Ruby and he said it was not. The question bears on a statement attributed to Ruby by police. They quoted him as saying after he shot Oswald, "I hope the son of a bitch dies."

Near Major Contention Ross, member of the Marine Corps during World War II, said he knew Ruby as a "patriotic, red-blooded American."

Ruby was in the Air Corps. The defense was moving steadily toward the heart of Ruby's defense — their contention that he was in an emotional trance when he killed Oswald.

Body of Greek Ruler Taken To Cathedral

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The body of King Paul of Greece, strangled to a gun carriage and followed by members of his grieving family, moved slowly through the hushed and crowded streets of the Greek capital today to lie in state in the Greek Orthodox cathedral.

Servicemen at attention lined both sides of the mile-long route through downtown Athens from the royal palace.

Walking behind the gun carriage were the new king, Paul's son, Constantine, 23; the widow, Queen Frederika, and other members of the royal family.

The 62-year-old monarch, who had reigned 17 years, died Friday of complications following stomach surgery Feb. 21.

The body will lie in state for three days, and the state funeral will be held Thursday.

In Washington, President Johnson announced that his wife and former President Harry S. Truman would head the American delegation to the funeral.

Plane Crashes Into Chicago Home Trying to Land at O'Hare Airport

CHICAGO (AP)—A chartered DC-3 airplane, trying to make a landing at O'Hare International Airport in misty weather, crashed into a house late Sunday night, killing the copilot.

The pilot and 28 passengers escaped.

The pilot, who with the copilot was trapped in the cockpit about two hours, was reported in critical condition in a hospital. But the passengers, returning from a day of skiing in Michigan, escaped without serious injuries.

Airliner With 13 Aboard Makes Safe Emergency Landing

BOSTON (AP) — A Trans World Airlines airliner with 13 persons aboard made an emergency landing at Logan International Airport today without serious difficulty after circling for an hour to use up fuel.

The main wheels operated properly and held during the landing.

The pilot radioed just after leaving Washington for Baltimore that he was experiencing difficulty with the nose wheel.

The four-engine Constellation was diverted to John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York but poor weather forced it to continue on to Boston.

The flight originated in Dayton, Ohio.

Tree Involved in Auto Crashes Is Cut Down

KENOSHA (AP) — Kenosha County Coroner Edward Wavro said today county highway crews had removed a tree that was struck by autos with the resulting loss of three lives in an eight-day span.

The tree was located along a nearly straight stretch of Highway 32 about three miles south of Kenosha. In taking down the tree last week, the highway department also removed four other nearby trees.

A Kenosha man died when his car hit the tree Feb. 22, and two graphs in the advertisement would be taken as reflecting on him.

Beatle Wigs Flipped Into Fashion Rage

NEW YORK—The "Beatlemania" sweeping the country has wig makers flipping. England's rocking Beatles are rejuvenating the $75 - $100 million a year hairpiece business, and industry sources agree this new mania may mean a 20 per cent boost for wig makers this year.

The rage for wigs is even entering the doll world. There is $10 to $15 million worth of business in this field already, and one toy manufacturer has plans to sell a doll with a Beatlelike hairpiece.

May Be Temporary Manufacturers realize that demand for Beatle wigs could fade within the next few months or even weeks. One company is marketing 15,000 to 20,000 wigs a day and hopes to raise this figure to 30,000 a day in a few weeks, and possibly double that by spring. Even this will not meet demand. The company has back orders for 750,000 wigs. And all this to-do about the Beatles has affected the fortunes of the high-fashion wig business that took U.S. women by storm several years ago. One major company claims a 10 per cent boost in business during the last month.

Interior Design a Many-Sided Career

BY VIVIAN BROWN

(The dwelling was built, primitive man concentrated on making the interior of his home beautiful field of interior design, should and comfortable in his own way, check their aptitudes, talents, Greer explained.

Even cavemen scratched pictures on walls to decorate their homes and Indians hung brightly patterned blankets as protection against the elements.

Interior design offers opportunities in an unusually large number of related careers.

Related Careers

There are wallpaper, wall-coverings and lighting specialists, fabric designers and furniture designers, and rug designers for flat surfaces and dimensional ones. Artists have tremendous opportunities as authorities on color styling.

The following qualifications are important, he believes. You should have taste, a sense of form, color, and scale, tireless patience with detail, imagination, and the ability to visualize in two and three dimensions. You must be personable and persuasive and understand the meaning of suitability and service as well as be artistic and knowledgeable.

Interests Aroused

"Initial interests often are triggered by a display of color and composition in school art courses, working with theater design in amateur productions, or more technical talents in graphic art, drafting, drawing of houses and interiors. Shop classes can reveal proficiency in carpentry and a knowledge of scale and proportion," Greer advises.

He suggests giving yourself a test, by thinking of the last home you visited.

What color was the rug? The curtains? What kind of furniture did they have? Where were the windows placed in the room? What was the general color scheme? Was the overall effect of the interior pleasing, or would you have made changes? By observing such things, you can learn a great deal about taste.

Beauty in Primitive Homes

All studies of primitive peoples have indicated that they were seriously concerned with creating interior living spaces. Houses, huts or other dwellings were built functionally, but once

The Ailing House Painting Protects Hardware

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I plan to repaint my kitchen shortly. Is there any way I can protect hardware, such as hinges, catches, etc., against getting covered with paint? There is a lot of it and I'd hate to have to remove it all.

A: Coat all such surfaces with petroleum jelly; then the paint can be easily wiped off.

Q: I cleaned out my basement last spring and found a forgotten bag of about 30 pounds of cement. I don't like to throw this cement away if I don't have to. I have quite a few patches to fix outdoors, in an otherwise good sidewalk. How much cement and water is used for a patching mix?

A: A good mixture for patching jobs is one part cement, three parts clean sand, with only enough water to make a stiff but workable mixture, which can be spread smoothly with a trowel.

Q: In our new home we will have a lot of wood paneling and cabinet work. Is there any kind of finish we can use to keep the wood looking light?

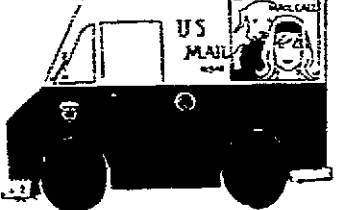

A: All wood gradually darkens and mellow with age. Applying top quality, water clear varnish will retard this process somewhat.

Q: What can I use to whiten the metal cabinet over the kitchen sink? My refrigerator is also yellowish looking. How can I whiten that up?

A: Yellowing of white surfaces in the kitchen is usually due to the effect of cooking vapors, etc. Try cleaning with a good porcelain cleaner available at supermarkets, housewares and hardware stores, following label directions carefully for best results. Or try cleaning with scratchless scouring powder, adding a little household ammonia to the water. Or try using a creamy clean-up wax, made by a nationally known manufacturer and widely available at same sources as porcelain cleaner. If none of these are successful in restoring the whiteness try painting. Apply top quality white appliance enamel, available at paint, hardware and many housewares and variety dealers.

Sincerely,
A READER

Dear Reader: Your problems are minor compared to many. And a widow's peak is usually very flattering, so play it up. Stay away from bangs but wear a sleek hairdo with added height on top. The proper cut is most important. Then follow that outline. A round face often looks good with hair worn just below chin level and straighter on the sides.

Flattering Hair Styles

In company with fashions and make-up, new hairstyles endorse a soft, feminine, natural look. There are absolutely no gimmicks. And that is as it should be, for harmony is the secret of a beguiling appearance.

Among current hairstyles, two patterns seem to prevail. One is almost smooth and contours the head — a cap with a hint of wave. The other swings free: deep waves frame the face, bouncy half-curls ring the ends, and soft bangs range the forehead.

Charming in themselves, both styles lend themselves to adaptations that most flatter an individual wearer. For example,

Thousands Lambast Ann for Advice She Gave 'Persecuted'

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I speak for millions of teen-agers when I say your advice to "Persecuted" was lousy. She is the girl who got whammed across the backside by that moron kid in the school corridor. The indignant young lady retaliated by jabbing him with the sharp end of her compass.

Landers

Instead of saying "Hooray for you, Doll!" you gave her heck and let him off. What should she have done, turned around and said, "Thank you?"

I believe "Persecuted" reacted in a normal way. Yet you recommended no punishment for him — only for her. I'm disappointed in you. My mother is, too. — Miss Indignant

Dear Miss Indignant: The mail is running 100 to 1 against me. I have not received such a lambasting since I told American wives to iron their bedsheets. Read on:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your answer to "Persecuted" was unjust. I know what I am talking about because something similar happened to me.

Last June I was standing on the pier. I bent down to help my little brother out of the water. A fresh kid came by and gave me a crack across the backside. I had on a wet bathing suit and the wallop really did sting. I swung around and pushed the nut right into the water — shoes, eye glasses, wrist-watch and all.

My parents heard about it almost immediately and said "We're proud of you!" They agreed a boy who would be so crude deserved what I gave him. — Sweet 16

And then there was this letter from Shawnee Mission, Kansas:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I usually agree with you, but

Melt Butter in Pan

Melt butter right in the pie pan when you make graham cracker pie crust, advise Meadow Gold home economists. Add the crumbs and mix. This saves washing an extra bowl and you won't waste a bit of butter certainly did not like your answer to "Persecuted." You expect a great deal of a young girl when you ask her to be the girl all your protest mail. It sweet and relaxed after having would pack her 30-day confinement cracked across the fanny ment with sympathetic reading, with a book.

It was unfortunate that "Miss Persecuted" had a compass in her hand, but the boy provoked the attack and deserved a slap

Needle Work

From Sherman, Texas: DEAR ANN LANDERS: Chivalry is dying fast enough without you stabbing it in the back with a compass. As the mother of both a teen-age son and daughter I disagree violently with your advice. Please don't encourage the hoodlums by sticking up for them. — Disappointed in You

From Peoria: DEAR ANN: I don't know where you went to high school or what the boys were like back in the olden days, but in our high school a girl has got to fight for her honor every living minute. If a boy did that to me, I'd hit him with anything handy, including a baseball bat.—Edna

And so, dear readers, after over a thousand letters — all saying essentially the same thing — I'm willing to admit I let the slap-happy punk off too easy.

The girl, however, should not have been congratulated and let off the hook. A compass can be a dangerous weapon. Had he ducked, it might have cost him an eye. This is too big a price to pay for a crude gesture. Furthermore, no girl would want such a terrible act on her conscience.

Ann Landers* will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1964)

Declarer Outplays Defender

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Within reasonable limits, bridge is an overbidder's game. The chief reason is that the average declarer plays much better than the average defender, so that many an "impossible" contract is made against a slip in the defense.

West opened the king of spades, and South saw that he could not possibly make the contract if West held the ace of clubs. South could discard one heart on the ace of spades, but he would still have to lose a heart and two clubs.

And if South went down, he would hear from North: How could you jump to five? I gave you two aces, and I had never opened my mouth. Yet you still couldn't make your contract. If you ran your business the way you bid, we'd be in the poorhouse in no time."

And South, who was partnered by his wife, would simply have to sit still and answer, "Yes, angel."

Ray of Light

Just as South was considering this horrible fate he saw a ray of light. He took the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, discarding a heart from his hand, and led a low heart from dummy to the second trick.

East followed with the seven of hearts, and South played the ten. West won with the jack of hearts and led another spade, forcing South to ruff. Naturally, South ruffed with the eight of diamonds.

Declarer led his last heart to dummy, ruffed a heart with the nine of diamonds, cashed the ace of diamonds and led the low diamond to dummy's seven. Now he could cash dummy's last heart, discarding one of the losing clubs.

The sharp-eyed reader has noticed, of course, that East could defeat the contract by stepping in with the queen of hearts at the second trick. East must then lead a club. All very true, but not many defenders would be clever enough to do this at the table. And this is why bridge is an overbidder's game.

Daily Question
Dealer, at your right, bids one diamond. You hold: S K Q J 10 7 6 H K J 6 D 3 C A J 10. What do you say?

Answer: Double. No matter what your partner responds, you can bid spades next. This will show a strong spade suit and a strong hand. The immediate jump overall is now used by most experts to show a strong suit, but a weak hand.

Chemistry Influences Heredity

NEW YORK — Quadruplets occur only once in about 65 million births — but one out of every 90 births in this country means twins! Twinning is, for many families, an hereditary process. What else is a matter of heredity? Much of the talent and intelligence your child will have is determined by his heritage, though it's highly unlikely he will inherit an exact replica of your nose — one physical characteristic that isn't passed on as a unit.

Body Chemistry
The factor of heredity is a matter of body chemistry. Each parent has 24 chromosomes, full of hundreds of clear, jelly-like particles, called genes. The genes determine whether your child will be fair or dark; blue- or brown-eyed; left-handed or right-handed, even color blind or tone deaf. It's possible for every couple to achieve any one of about 3 hundred million different gene and chromosome combinations — thus accounting for the sometimes amazing differences between two children in the same family.

Old wives' tales to the contrary, there's no connection between genes that determine appearance and the genes that create personality. Protruding ears don't denote stupidity. A large mouth doesn't indicate a generous nature, and a receding chin isn't a sign of moral weakness.

Superstition Foiled
Genetic study has undermined another superstition: the idea of tainted blood. The process of heredity is solely one of passing on and receiving chromosomes and their genes; blood has nothing to do with it.

Doctors now know that the blue baby doesn't inherit his disease. The condition develops — prenatally — only when the baby's blood carries an inherited chemical substance known as the Rh factor — and the mother's blood lacks this substance. With precautions now possible or being developed, there's little danger to the first Rh positive baby, and only slight chance for a second such birth.

There is still no way to plan the sex of your child — nor is there ever likely to be. There are, however, some predictions you can make with a fair amount of certainty. If both parents have dark hair and eyes, chances are three to one your child will also be dark. When one parent is left-handed, there's a 16 per cent chance the child will be a leftie too.

If you're counting on a genetic inheritance from some illustrious but far-removed ancestor, don't. The odds are eight to three against your having received one full chromosome from an ancestor dating back to the Revolutionary War.

Teeth Conditioner?
One question that comes up frequently is whether a child inherits good or bad teeth from his parents. The answer has to be yes, in a sense, but mostly no. The shape of the mouth and the jaw may be passed on, in some degree, from generation to generation and their formation definitely has some of the effect on dental health — or the lack of it.

On the one hand, the genetics have nothing to do with how many dental cavities your child will or will not have. On the other, the nutritional status of the women during pregnancy has to do with the health of the child.

The Lenten Story

ART THOU THE CHRIST?

Shortly before daybreak, Jesus was led into the Sanhedrin to be questioned by the chief priests and elders of the people.

"Art Thou the Christ? Tell us," they asked Him. And He said to them, "If I tell you, ye will not believe; and if I question you, you will not answer Me or let Me go. But henceforth, the Son of Man will be seated at the right hand of the power of God."

And they all said, "Art Thou, then, the Son of God?" He answered, "Ye say that I am." (Luke XXII:69-70) "What further need have we of witnesses?" asked the high priest. "Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned Him to be guilty of death." (Mark XIV:64)

BREAKING THE BANK

Dear Louise: I plan to be married in June when I finish my sophomore year at college.

My fiancée's family is wealthy. Mine is not. I am worried about the expense of the wedding which will be large. I have no idea what obligation my parents have. I would hate to cause them trouble by giving them too many bills to pay. They have two children in school and three others of pre-school age. I am very ignorant concerning the proper procedure. Who pays for the wedding and engagement rings?

Louise Davis Answers:
I strongly implore you to change your views about having a large wedding even if your fiancée's parents are wealthy. The cost of the wedding and the reception is your parents' obligation and it is not correct to want to pretend that your family can pay for it. Your wedding should be planned with what your father can pay without sacrificing. State Elementary Teachers About Equal in Preparation

Teachers in Wisconsin elementary schools all have about the same preparation in education courses, whether they earned four-year degrees at any of the nine State Colleges, the University of Wisconsin or at private colleges in the state.

That report was made to the State College Regents by Karl W. Meyer, assistant director of private colleges require an average of 13 foundation course credits, 17 methods course credits and 9 student teaching credits.

"It is obvious that no great variations exist in the average number of education courses required by the three different types of institutions," Dr. Meyer said.

The study showed that about one-third of the courses taken by a future elementary school teacher earning a bachelor's degree are required courses in education.

The required courses consist of foundation courses such as psychology, measurement, history and philosophy of education, school and society and professional of methods courses including reading, math-science, social science, art, music and physical education and student teaching courses.

Report Property Damage High as Waterways Swell

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent rainstorms, wind and hail pounded sections of the Midwest and Southwest today, causing considerable property damage, inundating streets and swelling some rivers toward flood stage.

Severe windstorms tore through sections of Texas, Missouri and Illinois, but no injuries were reported.

The severe weather struck an area from western Ohio to northeastern Texas.

A tornado was reported to have struck down 16 miles south of Lutesville in southwestern Missouri, but no damage was reported.

Tornado Report

Strong winds ripped through Aviston in Southern Illinois, damaging buildings, blowing down tree limbs and causing power failure.

In Waco, Tex., blinding winds tore through some areas causing considerable property damage.

Heavy rains accompanied the winds in some areas, bringing fears of river flooding.

Six highways were closed by flooding in eastern Kentucky. Families began preparations to evacuate their homes as the Kentucky River neared flood stage.

The river rose 16 inches in one hour during the height of a torrential storm.

Watch Ohio

Kentuckians also kept a wary eye on the Ohio River at Maysville, Ky., as the Weather Bureau predicted it would reach the 56-foot flood level early Tuesday. It was at 48.5 feet this morning.

The Ohio also rose in Cincinnati and Portsmouth, Ohio, but was still several feet below the danger level.

Heavy rains fell on several portions of the Midwest and Southwest.

Dallas, Tex., was pounded with 1.38 inches in a six-hour

Planning Commission Backs Passage of Forest Tax Proposal

A resolution recommending passage of an April 7 referendum which would boost the forestry tax from two-tenths to one-fourth of a mill has been adopted by the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission. The two-tenths tax, the resolution said, was enacted in 1924. Funds drawn from the current levy "is not sufficient to maintain an adequate forestry program for the state's expanding needs," the resolution said.

The increase would be used for added forest fire protection, planting of more than 30 million seedlings annually, development and operation of the state forests, payment of statutory aids on county forests, and provision of technical assistance and research required for proper implementation of the forestry program.

Gordon A. Bubolz, chairman of the commission, said the increase would amount to 50 cents a year on $10,000 of assessed valuation.

Reynolds Will Miss Trade Mission Trip to Europe

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A Wisconsin trade mission that will hunt new markets in Europe during a three-week tour will make the trip without Gov. John W. Reynolds.

The 65 state businessmen and their wives assembled here today for the first function, a luncheon reception at Gen. Billy Mitchell Field. And after a lunch press conference was planned by Gov. Reynolds and Lt. Gov. Jack Olson, who now heads the mission.

Ships Tour

Reynolds said Saturday he would skip the tour to stay home and oppose Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, who has entered Wisconsin's April 7 presidential primary. Reynolds is entered in the primary as the head of a favorite son slate of Democratic national convention delegates pledged to President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The mission will make official visitations to Frankfurt, Copenhagen, Brussels, Paris and London, and members plan side trips to other countries.

The delegation was scheduled to leave at 2:30 p.m., with the first stop Washington, D.C. A Tuesday morning visit to the White House is planned, and a two-hour briefing at the Department of Commerce also is set for Tuesday.

Hotel Reception

Ambassadors and representatives of countries in which the delegation will call were invited to a hotel reception for the members and their wives Tuesday afternoon. Wisconsin's senators and representatives, with the exception of Sen. Gaylord Nelson and Rep. Vernon Thomson, were expected to attend the reception.

Gov. Reynolds, who will go with the delegation to Washington, plans to return to Wisconsin Tuesday after the group visits the grave of President Kennedy.

The trade mission will fly to Frankfurt, Germany, from Washington Tuesday evening.

Johnson Planning Speech on Policy For Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is planning a major speech on U.S. Latin American policy focused on the Alliance for Progress.

The President also is expected to send to Congress in the next few weeks a message on U.S. foreign aid plans and operations which will cover the work of an interdepartmental committee given the task two months ago of planning a shake-up in AID. The committee is headed by Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

The occasion for the speech on Latin America will be the initial meeting March 16 of the Inter-American Committee on the Alliance for Progress. The Organization of American States announced Friday that Johnson will speak on that date to the committee, which is de-

Five Indians Stake Claims On Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five Sioux Indians who landed on Alcatraz and staked claims to the island site of the abandoned federal prison said Sunday night that they withdrew under threat by the angered warden in charge of a six-man caretaker garrison.

"But we achieved our purpose—staking out our claim," said their leader, Allen Cotter, 42, of San Leandro, Calif. He is president of the San Francisco Bay area branch of the American Indian Council.

Warden Richard Willard said, "I told their attorney, 'If anything happens and any of my people get scratched up, that's a felony.' I asked them again to leave and they did."

The Indians were on the rock about four hours.

Leighton explained that the Alcatraz invasion was a protest against the 47 cents an acre awarded as a settlement by the government for land taken from California Indians.

He said the claims to the 20-acre rock with 12 usable acres were staked under terms of an 1868 treaty which allowed non-reservation Indians to file for up to 40 acres of government land "not used for a specific purpose."

Cecil Poole, U.S. district attorney, disputed the contention by the Indians and the attorney that the island had reverted to unappropriated land.

"Alcatraz is not abandoned," declared Poole. "It is being maintained."

Social Security Beneficiaries In State Up 5.4 Per Cent

More than 459,200 men, women over 19 million were on the social security benefit rolls. Beneficiaries received social security benefit payments at the end of 1963, an increase of 5.4 per cent over the end of 1962. Payments amounted to about $2,626,983 a month, according to Frank M. The social security program was 28 years old last August 14.

In reviewing growth of the program, Donnick noted that at the close of 1940, the first year in which monthly payments were made, only 200,000 people in the nation were receiving payments. In December 1963,

82,019 Received Sabin Vaccine in Outagamie County

Officials Say Turnout One of Best in State, Despite Weather

Braving snow and hazardous driving, 82,019 men, women and children received oral vaccine Sunday at 10 Outagamie County Medical Society-sponsored clinics.

"Sabin on Sunday," a major project to push mass immunization against polio, was one of the most successful in Wisconsin this year even though the weather was unfavorable, officials said.

Although clinics were not scheduled to open until 11 a.m., hundreds of persons had lined up at several of the centers and the dispensing of the vaccine started at about 10:30 a.m. and continued until about 6 p.m. at some places.

Complete Series
Those who received the vaccine with a cube of sugar got type I, and April 19 will have to return to the same clinic sites for a second dose combining types II and III to complete the immunization.

Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, chairman of the project, said by late today close to 83,000 persons will have received the vaccine. An estimated 600 doses of the serum were sent to the hospitals in the city and county to be administered to patients unable to attend clinics.
Behnke said any county residents not getting the vaccine still could do so this week from their family physician. Doctors have agreed to administer the vaccine until the end of the week at no charge. They will be asked to make the 25-cent donation when the followup program started at about 10:30 a.m. and is held in mid-April.

List Totals
The total number of doses administered Sunday at each of the clinics in some instances surpassed the population of the community in which the center was located. The totals:
Huntley School, 7,335.
Jefferson School, 8,766.
Madison School, 9,097.
St. Pius School, 7,684.
Morgan School, 9,200.
Kimberly High, 11,650.
Kaukauna High, 11,800.
Seymour High, 5,567.
Hortonville High, 5,200.
New London High, 5,700.

Behnke said no one was turned away at any clinic if unable to give the 25-cent-per-dose donation.
An estimated 500 doctors, nurses, pharmacists and other volunteers contributed their services. On the basis of the last census figure, about 80 per cent of residents in the county got the vaccine.

CAP Aid
Members of the Civil Air Patrol transported the vaccine to the clinics from "Operation Sabin" headquarters at Doctors Park. Outagamie County police also assisted throughout the day, and during the late afternoon helped with transporting money to banks.
Appleton supplied several policemen to assist with traffic at congested areas.
The $30,000 shipment of vaccine from Wyeth Laboratories in New Jersey was paid for by the Medical Society which had agreed to underwrite cost of the project. A representative of Wyeth was also in the city assisting with clinic arrangements, Behnke said.

Border Area
Several persons from communities bordering Outagamie County also received the vaccine. Authorities did not ask names or addresses.
"On behalf of the Medical Society and other groups and individuals which made the first phase of our immunization program a success, I would like to congratulate the people for the fine turnout and their conduct at the centers," Dr. Behnke said.
"I want to thank everyone who worked on the Sabin on Sunday project — they all did an outstanding job," Dr. Behnke said.
He said planning and arrangements for the April 19 clinics will be completed within the next few weeks.

The concert will be a part of a three-day tour of Wisconsin high schools by the 65-member band, under the direction of Paul Pizner.
Traditional and contemporary classical works will be represented on the tour program by composers Michael Glinka, Johann Sebastian Bach, Gustav Holst, Carl Maria Von Weber, H. Owen Reed, Peter Leenan, Gustave Charpentier, Floyd Werle and Clifton Williams.

Teamster Official Protests New Appleton Work Rules

Robert Schlieve Writes Letter Prior to Tuesday WLRB Hearing

Appleton-union relations were more strained than ever today, to disregard of the union's desire to continue negotiations with your committee through the medium of mediation.

A spokesman for Teamsters Local 563 took strong exception to the work rules adopted recently by the common council to govern unionized employees in the department of public works.
Secretary-Treasurer Robert Schlieve, the chief negotiator for the union in its long-running contract dispute with the City of Appleton, expressed his views in a registered letter today to Ald E. V. Krueger (11th), personnel committee chairman, and Mayor Clarence Mitchell.
The union and city representatives, deadlocked for weeks in negotiations over wages, hours and working conditions, will meet with a Wisconsin Labor Relations Board examiner at city hall Tuesday for a hearing on whether fact-finding procedure should be invoked.

Revised Rules
In his letter to city officials, Schlieve objected to the revised work rules governing hourly wage employees which were adopted recently by the council. He said the original rules had been agreed upon by both sides and a work agreement of long standing.
Schlieve charged the revision, made without prior notice to the union, were "...in complete

Police Investigate $26 Theft at Church

MENASHA — Police are investigating the theft of $26 from a wallet belonging to Mrs. Ralph Ashley, 629 Third St., Menasha, sometime between 5:45 and 5 a.m. Sunday at St. John Catholic Church.

Three Menasha squad cars were called to Menasha High School at 11 p.m. Sunday when a resident of the neighborhood reported seeing lights and what appeared to be a person inside the building.
Police found two doors open on the south side of the front of the building. One appeared to have been pried open.
No one was found at the scene and nothing appeared disturbed, police said.

First Fight Won

Not One Scratch or Flinch In 'Sabin on Sunday' Battle

Outagamie County was a "battleground" Sunday but not a person received a scratch or even flinched—thanks to oral vaccine.
Small paper cups, each containing two drops of type I anti-polio vaccine, took the place of needles.
Instead of the customary "ouch" which sometimes accompanies an injection, more than 82,000 taking the Sabin vaccine enjoyed every bit of it.

It wasn't until late in the afternoon that the Sabin on Sunday (S.O.S.) project was acclaimed a success and the first battle had been won.
Doctors Park, 424 E. Longview Dr., was the nerve-center of the countywide immunization program aimed at making an all-out attack against polio.

With an estimated 500 volunteers set for action, the "launching," shortly before 11 a.m., was smooth. Ten centers in the city and county area lined up "ammunition" on rows of tables.
Shortly after the launching, however, there were some anxious moments. Officials of the Outagamie County Medical Society and others crossed fingers hoping the public had gotten the message.
By noon their fears vanished as thousands made their way to clinics in Appleton, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Hortonville, New London and Seymour.

There were many human interest stories that unfolded during the day, but it was impossible to record them all.
For example, the Salvation Army made it a point to round up several underprivileged children and made sure they got their doses of vaccine.
A group of teenagers volunteered their cars and offered to chauffeur people to and from the clinics if they could not obtain transportation.
The command post for the 10-pronged operation was the office of Dr. Jack G. Anderson, County Medical Society president. It was here that Dr.

Outagamie to Seek U.S. Airport Aid

Courthouse Is A Schoolhouse For One Day

200 Students Tour Buildings, Study Government

Outagamie County courthouse was a schoolhouse today as more than 200 high school students from throughout the county learned about the day-to-day operation of county government.
The students, most of whom arrived in private cars, complained somewhat about the lack of parking places around the courthouse even before they were introduced to the Outagamie County Board of Supervisors, a group of men who are also concerned about the parking problem.

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer called the crowded board room to attention, asked for a moment of silent prayer, then officially welcomed the students.
Officials Introduced
One by one, Fulcer introduced county officials with whom the students would have closer contact throughout their day-long study. A critique is set for 4 p.m. in the courthouse to discuss what the students observed today.

After ceremonies in the county board room, county officials not required to be present for the board sessions, led their respective counterparts to offices where lectures concerning that particular phase of government were conducted.
Students had been elected to their respective titles during school elections previous to the special meeting at the courthouse.
Groups of students sat in on court procedures in the Outagamie County Court Branch 2 where County Judge Gustave Keller presided. There had been a jury trial scheduled for today, but it had finished early. Judge Keller, however, used the morning to arraign a driver for operating under the influence of alcohol, a vagrant and two persons charged with disorderly conduct.
Sheriff Calvin Spice used his lecture period to explain the functions of the sheriff's department. Later he escorted his counterparts into the county jail for a firsthand look at jail operations.

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly PTA meeting scheduled for Tuesday evening has been postponed because of the basketball tournament.

Supervisors Ask State to Set Public Hearing; Catlin Reports On Expenditures for New Field

Outagamie County supervisors Co. Park Ridge, Ill., airport deors voted unanimously today to sign and construction consultants to the State Aeronautics Commission for a bearing on Future Outagamie County federal aid funds to be used in costs come to $2,863,000 for a new airport construction.

At the same time, the county board heard Supv. Mark Catlin (Appleton 7th), chairman of the airport committee, outline past and proposed expenditures on construction of the new airport in the Town of Greenville.

Catlin explained the petition to the State Aeronautics Commission is a formality. Before the state agency can process any federal aid funds, they must receive a request to schedule a public hearing.
During the public hearing Outagamie County will formally request aid for land acquisition and for future construction at the airport.

Federal Aid
Proposed federal aid participation includes $250,000 for land acquisition, $360,000 for a crosswind runway scheduled for 1965, $108,500 to extend the northwest-southeast runway and taxiway by 1,000 feet, plus another $100,000 for extending the proposed northeast-southwest runway and taxiway by 600 feet.
In explaining expenditures, Catlin passed out a fact sheet showing $937,000 has been spent so far on the new airport.

Major expenditures have been $580,745 for land, $238,300 for the first airport contract, $29,900 for a land survey by Daniel Gaffney of Green Bay and $28,200 for the original airport study by the Ralph H. Burke.

Jurors Absent; Topsy Driving Charge Reduced
For the want of a jury, a case was lost.
Principals in a court case charging a motorist with driving under the influence of alcohol gathered in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 today to begin testimony, but someone neglected to notify the most important members of the cast — the jurors.
Leslie W. Schultz, 24, 2560 E. Newberry Road, charged with the offense Jan. 27, 1963, requested trial by a six-man jury before County Judge Gustave Keller.

Trial date had been set for today and, according to court officials, it was believed the jury had been notified to appear. Apparently, through an administrative slipup, notification was not given to the members selected to serve.
City Atty Frederick Froehlich moved that the case be amended to a charge of reckless driving and Schultz, through his attorney, agreed to the change and pleaded guilty to the lesser charge. Schultz was fined $100 and costs.

List Drivers
Driver of the other car, James T. Hughes, 17, 1328 N. Viola St., was not injured. He was going south on N. Lave and Below was going north when the accident occurred.
Two persons received minor injuries in a two-car crash at E. College and Walter avenues Sunday at 9 p.m. injured were Mrs. Edward Eisch and Jennifer Eisch, 9, both of 1109 W. Fourth St., Kimberly.
A car being driven on Walter Avenue by Edward Eisch, 52, 1109 W. Fourth St. was involved in a collision with a car being driven west on College Avenue by Monica G. Bennett, 25, route 2, Appleton.

3 Hospitalized
Three persons were hospitalized in a two-car accident on Richmond Street at Hawes Avenue about 11 p.m. Joseph G. Meuwesen, 38, De Pere, driver of a car going north on Richmond St., collided into the rear of a car turning off Richmond Street being driven by Larry Feistel, 605 E. Newberry St. The Meuwesen car then struck a telephone pole.
Injured in Meersen's car were passengers Edward J. Julev, 43, and David Telfer, 23, both of Green Bay. They were taken to Appleton Memorial by Lindy's Ambulance Service.

Ex-Page Says Baker Cut Down On His Salary

Forced to Give Up $50 Twice to Fellow Page, He Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Senate page boy testified today that Bobby Baker, then secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, on two occasions made him surrender $50 of his $403 monthly pay to a fellow page.

Boyd Richie, 18, now a student at the University of the South at Seawane, Tenn., said he gave up the money in January and February, 1962 until then Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson intervened.

Johnson arranged for Richie to get back the money, he said, after Richie complained about a "kickback" arrangement.

Tells of Christmas Gift
Richie testified at a hearing conducted by the Senate Rules Committee which is investigating Baker's outside business dealings while he held the Senate post. Baker has since resigned under fire.

Responding to questions Richie said that Baker received a 1961 Christmas gift — a ring with a stone "about the size of a penny" — that he understood was from "The Murchisons."

The reference was apparently to the Murchison brothers, Texas financiers, whose name has been linked with Baker's in previous testimony.

An athletic looking youth with a flat-top haircut and wearing a neat dark blue suit, Richie sat beside his lawyer-father, Bradie E. Richie of Wichita Falls, Tex., as he gave the testimony.

Richie testified that Baker told him that "because I was young and inexperienced, he'd like to cut my pay back until I acquired experience."

Big Crowds Attend Xavier Arts Event

Crowds estimated as high as 5,000 attended the three-day Carnival of Arts which ended Sunday at Xavier High School.

About 1,000 persons heard the "pop" concert by the Xavier bands Sunday evening, the final program of the weekend. The performance was well received and encores were requested, according to director Francis Scholtz.

About 700 grade and high school students sang in the choral festival Sunday afternoon. Edgar Turrentine, head of music education at Lawrence College, said the vocal groups did some of the best work I have ever heard," and said the eighth-grade choruses were superior to the usual eighth grade singers.

About 500 grade school band members took part in the band festival Saturday afternoon. Scholtz said all the grade school bands had grown and improved since the first Carnival of Arts last year.

Good crowds attended both the Saturday and Sunday afternoon performances, Scholtz said. He estimated total attendance at the Carnival programs and art displays at 4,000 - 5,000 persons.

Merchants to View Menasha Mall Plan

Meeting Scheduled Thursday To Explore Project Reaction

MENASHA — An exploratory meeting on how merchants feel about establishment of a downtown shopping mall in Menasha is scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday in the city council chambers.

City officials, a majority of the downtown merchants, representatives of the Menasha Business Associates, financial and industrial leaders and members of a recently formed downtown improvement committee are expected to take part in discussing the mall project.

Walter Rammel, chairman of the improvement committee, will be in charge of presenting ideas to merchants and leading a discussion on the possibilities of erecting a mall.

The meeting will mark the first major, organized attempt to begin a renewal project in downtown Menasha. Rammel leads the first committee set up outside the Twin City Chamber of Commerce to develop the area.

Public Works Director Robert Poss, who has worked with the committee, this morning said the meeting will be of an exploratory nature only. It is to acquaint the merchants and businessmen with what could be done to improve the downtown area and to improve business.

Rammel last week presented to council members drawings of what could be accomplished in improvements by converting the alley behind Main Street shops between Milwaukee and Broad Streets into a shopping mall.

In the plan utilities were put underground and rear "fronts" were built onto the stores. A driveway and canopy were suggested for the entire area. That suggestion will probably be one presented to merchants at the Thursday meeting.

Gordon Jacobson, 35, 823 Grignon St., a former appliance dealer, was found innocent Friday of two charges he violated trust agreements with General Electric Co.

A 12-man jury deliberated 10 minutes before returning its verdict in Outagamie County Circuit Court. Jacobson had been charged by General Electric with the violations which have seven times the rate of the violations which have at our old airport now. Supv. $818,500 for total federal aid, and $500,000 for sale of the old airport.

Catlin said the $818,500 in aid money could possibly be used this year. However, only the $250,000 for land acquisition costs could be expended now. The other could only be used when the future construction (1965) begins.

Too 'Conservative' Catlin said the $500,000 figure for sale of the old airport may be "too conservative." He said sale of the land could bring in "much more."

He also referred to Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) Examiner Edward T. Stodola's recommendation to the North Central Airlines regional airport hearings. "His decision broke the back of Winnebago County's case," he said, "and they're appealing his recommendation that air service be continued to Outagamie County just to save face. Their whole argument has exploded in their faces."

represented compromise on the part of the city and the union. However, Schlieve served notice his union now found it necessary to bargain "a basic of collective bargaining namely," in the absence of complete agreement, no agreement.

Schlieve said the union considered itself in disagreement with the city on all matters of wages, hours and conditions of employment, including items on which tentative agreement had been indicated.

"We are at this time reverting to our original position and proposal," Schlieve advised the city.

It means, as far as the union is concerned, the bargaining should start from the beginning with nothing on the table. The union was withdrawing everything but its original contract demands which included a 15-cent-per hour blanket wage increase.

Today's Project Teaches How To Neatly Rule Lines of Ink

BY CAPPY DICK
Be sure to leave the metal edge held almost upright, draw the inked pen along the metal edge. You will find that you have been able to make the line without disturbing any other part of the picture as would be done if you were to lay the ruler flat on the wet drawing and proceeded to draw the line in the usual way.
The small sections of ruler will prove to be handy in other ways, such as drawing lines on small objects where a full-length ruler would be awkward to handle.

Braves' Rookies Are Finest Group Ever, McHale Says

Renews Effort To Sign Torre To '64 Contract

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Milwaukee Braves president John McHale was a kind of one-man doubleplay combination, pronouncing the rookie training camp a success, then renewing efforts today to get his single holdout into action.

Rookies who joined in the early workouts played important parts in Sunday's 2-0 victory over Denver, the Braves' farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

A trio of young hurlers—Ken Nixon, Dick Kelley and Clay Carroll—combined to pitch the four-hit shutout victory and another rookie, Rico Carty, drove in the only runs with a double. Plus this, a trio of rookie hurlers working for Denver held the Milwaukee line—up to four hits.

Finest Group

After the game, McHale said, "This early camp was a success in my opinion. We all had a look at the youngsters," and he added, "it is undoubtedly our finest group ever in spring training."

And with that he flew from sunny Florida to Milwaukee to resume contract talks with catcher Joe Torre, who probably devoted part of his day to shoveling snow.

As McHale worried about Torre, and Torre worried about the snow, Manager Bobby Bragan was beginning to worry about base hits. A nagging problem last season.

"The pitchers are well ahead of the hitters in conditioning," Bragan said, "but I still thought there would be more base hits than we had." However, none of his regulars saw any action.

The victory in the exhibition game went to Kelley, who allowed two hits while Nixon and Carroll surrendered only one each in three-inning stints. Pat House, Jerry Hummelsch of Sheboygan and Bob Daniel did the pitching for Denver.

An error by third baseman Bob Alexander opened the way for the Milwaukee runs. With two out in the sixth, Woody Woodward reached first on the error and Ethan Blackaby walked. Both runners advanced on a passed ball and scored on Carty's double.

Celtics Boost Eastern Lead

Decision Pistons; Knicks and St. Louis Triumph

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

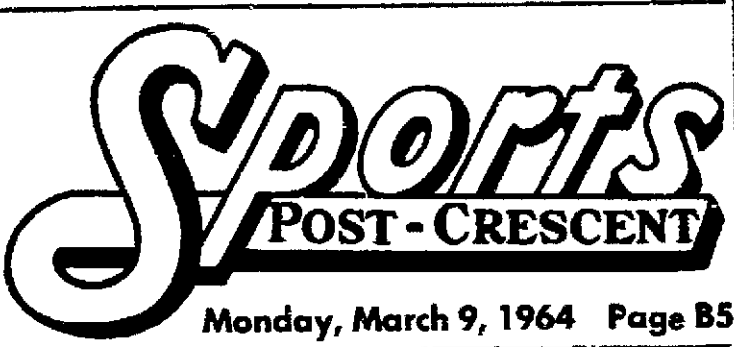

Time is running out on the Cincinnati Royals' bid to grab the top spot in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division and the Boston Celtics aren't helping much either.

The Celtics shored the idle Royals a full three games back on Sunday by whacking the Detroit Pistons 128-118. With each club having just four games left to play, the Celtics need only a split to clinch their eighth straight division title.

In other games Sunday, New York walloped Philadelphia 140-108, and St. Louis dumped Baltimore 135-117.

Bill Russell hit on seven of 10 field goal attempts and snared 17 rebounds as the Celtics galloped to a 67-65 halftime lead. Boston opened its margin to 22 points in the third period and coasted the rest of the way.

In the Western Division, the St. Louis Hawks, who've been casting covetous eyes on the lead, cut the San Francisco Warriors' margin to one game with their victory.

League Grants Two Rivers 1964 Franchise

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Despite blowing snow outside, it was all baseball talk inside as the Fox River Valley Baseball League held one of its snappiest and most encouraging organizational meetings in history.

Two Rivers applied for and was granted a franchise in the league during the session which was held at the Appleton South Side Athletic Club Sunday afternoon.

Morrison, a member of the league for the past three seasons, withdrew its franchise and two other clubs, Freedom and Harrison said they had not had their own club meetings yet. They were instructed to have a definite answer by the time of the next meeting March 24 in Fond du Lac.

The entire slate of officers was re-elected for the 1964 season, including Gene Kloes, president; Frank Warner, secretary; Frank Chalupa, treasurer and Jim Harp, publicity.

In a poll of league teams as to prospects for the coming season, here is the way reports went:

Fond du Lac — Jimmy Adlam has been selected as new field manager to replace Harvey Bes-tor and the club has a new board of directors and is set for the season to get underway.

Kaukauna — A new field manager must be found to replace Tom Nytes who resigned. Kaukauna will have a new field with an electric scoreboard for the '64 season. Bob Gossens is the new Kaukauna business manager.

Harrison — The club is well off financially but is facing its perennial problem of coming up with new ball players. Manager Dave Huhn will check into the situation in the next two weeks.

Little Chute-Kimberly — A new field manager is needed to replace Roger Vander Wylst who resigned to take over the reins as business manager. The club has a new slate of officers for the '64 season.

Oshkosh — Business manager Herb Willis said the club is ready to begin operations for the season.

Freedom — Manager Roger Ger-rits said no club meeting has been held.

Jimenez Fined $200 for Being Late; Colavito Still a Holdout

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manny Jimenez, of the Kansas City Athletics, whom Charles O. Finley once ordered to hit home runs, finds himself in a revolting situation.

The young outfielder from the Dominican Republic reported to the Athletics' camp at Bradenton, Fla., Sunday, four days late.

His tardiness cost him $200. Asked why he was late, the 25-year-old Jimenez replied: "I have to fight in revolution."

Manager Eddie Lopat, who assessed the fine, countered: "I don't see any bullet holes in you."

Take Back Trails

"I too good a shot," Manny explained. "They no get to me. There are no taxis. They no like taxis. They shoot at them. I have to walk to airport, take back trails."

Now all students of current events know that revolutions occur in the Dominican almost as often as the Mets lose ball games. But if there was an up-coming in the Republic recently, Jimenez reached the United States before word of the revolution did.

The Dominican native was involved in another kind of revolution in 1962. As the season rolled along in July, Jimenez was leading the league with a .350 batting average.

Then, owner Finley stepped into the picture. He told Hank Bauer, then managing the team: "I don't pay Jimenez to hit home runs. Jimenez is a smart Cuban, and he's going for singles and a better average. You get him in your office and get another Cuban to interpret and bang your fist on the desk. We'll see what happens."

Dropped to Second

Everyone saw what happened. By July 27, Jimenez dropped to second in the league with a .237 average.

Jimenez was even sadder at the end of the season. His average dropped to .301, and he hit only 11 home runs.

Another Kansas City outfielder, Rocky Colavito, is engaged in a salary dispute with Finley. The former Detroit star reported, in a salary dispute with Finley, that he wants $54,000, the same star team 9-4. The Mets won amount he earned last year two of the three games.

Barber, Player, Palmer Seek Title in Playoff

Pensacola Open Prize of $4,000 At Stake Today

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer had the record going for him today as he teed off against Gary Player and Miller Barber in an 18-hole playoff for $4,000 in the Pensacola Open golf championship.

Palmer, gunning for his second straight Pensacola Open title and third in five years, has won 11 of his 40 championships on the PGA tour in playoffs. Player has lost every one of the seven playoffs in which he has participated in the United States. Barber is competing in his first playoff.

The 34-year-old Palmer sank a pressure-packed seven-foot putt on the final green Sunday to get into the playoff on the 6,380-yard, par-72 Pensacola Country Club course. It gave him a 69 and a 14-under-par 274, the same scores posted by Player and Barber 15 minutes later.

Palmer, 13-under par as he came to the final hole, was playing ahead of Player and Barber, who were both 14-under par through 17 holes. Gunning for a birdie to tie, Palmer drilled a five-iron shot that stopped seven feet to the left of the hole. With Player and Barber watching from the 18th fairway, Palmer sank the putt.

The two losers in the playoff will receive $2,300 apiece while all three players will split half of the gross receipts. The tournament sponsors get the other 50 per cent.

Sub-Sectional Duels Set At Kimberly and Oshkosh

Jays Play Comets; Papermakers Meet Casco; Manawa and Clints Also Eye Sectional Berths

BY TERRY GALVEN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Mid-Eastern Conference titles, Menasha and Kimberly, will be vying for sectional berths in sub-sectionals Tuesday night.

The Papermakers will play host to Casco in their own sub-sectional at 7:30 p.m. Menasha is slated to oppose Waupaca in the Oshkosh sub-sectional at the same time.

Other Fox Cities area squads involved in the pre-sectional trials are Manitowoc (13-6) against Valders (19-1) at Green Bay East and Pulaski dueling Coleman at Pulaski. Pulaski finished second in the Northeastern Wisconsin loop with a 10-4 mark. Coleman was fifth in the M-O (Marinette-Oconto) conference. Victors of the Manitowoc-Valders and Pulaski-Coleman tilts will join winners of the Kimberly and Oshkosh sub-sectional in the Neenah sectional Friday night.

Coach Carl Bruggink's Clintonville Truckers meet Port Edwards in a prelude to the Wausau sectional. Manawa (15-6) faces Lena at Marion for a berth at Wausau. Lena finished fourth in the M-O loop with a 6-6 log.

10 Wins For Truckers

The Truckers, who will be competing in the Stevens Point sub-sectional, are 10-11 on the season. Bill Melzer and Jerry Shepard will be leading the Truckers bid. Melzer was an All-Mid-Eastern loop first team selection.

Port Edwards, runnerup in the Central-C conference, boasts a 15-4 overall log. Manawa's top offensive threat is Jim Buschke, an All-Central Wisconsin 100 p choice. Dan Janz and Bob Sweat head Port's lineup.

Kimberly, third-ranked in the final WIAA Big 16 Poll, decision-ated West De Pere, 58-54, to gain a berth in its own sub-sectional. Coach Gene Mason's crew boast an overall 19-1 slate.

Mason will probably open with Chuck Meyer, Lee Levknecht and Gordon Zillges up front. Zillges and Meyer both are 6-7. Levknecht, the team's top point-producer and an All-M-E first team pick, is 6-3.

Dennis Kroner, 5-10 senior, and John Reider, 5-9 sophomore, should get the backcourt nod. Top reserves include John De-Wildt, Jim VandenBoogaard and Jerry Wyngaard. VandenBoogaard was the big gun in the WDP contest.

Casco, 16-5 on the season, has won 16 of its last 17 after dropping its first four outings. The Papermaker foe boasts a well-balanced offensive attack.

Probable Casco starters are Al Jorgenson, 6-3; Dale Briet-

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's second ranked Wolverines, already having assured themselves of an NCAA tournament berth, aim for their first Big Ten basketball title in 16 years Monday night.

The powerful Wolverines came from behind Saturday night and defeated Iowa at Iowa City 69-61 while Michigan State pulled a major upset by knocking off Ohio State at Columbus, 81-80, on Pete Gent's winning basket, with eight seconds to play.

This assured Michigan of no less than a share of the Big Ten title and the NCAA berth. Now the Wolverines must defeat Purdue to win the undisputed conference crown.

Should Michigan lose to Purdue, Ohio State will share the title and set a record of five successive conference titles.

Until Gent's winning basket, it had been a great comeback.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Ron Palbicki of Minneapolis amassed a nine-game total of 1,940 to take a commanding lead in regular all-events at the American Bowling Congress Tournament Sunday.

The 31-year-old bowling center manager whacked a 566 series in the team event Saturday night and came back Sunday with 636 in doubles and 638 in singles.

He dislodged Bob Nakagiri, a Los Angeles gardener who has led the regular all-events since he totaled 1862 last Tuesday.

Palbicki and Bill Drouches paired for a 1252 series and fourth place in doubles.

Al Theilen, a teammate with Palbicki and Drouches on the Grain Belt team of Minneapolis, took third place in regular singles with a 667 series.

Wagner Apologizes To Angels' Haney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Cleveland outfielder Leon Wagner offered an apology Sunday to General Manager Fred Haney of the Los Angeles Angels, whom he described last week as "a sort of Khrushchev."

Wagner, traded to Cleveland by the Angels in December, said he did not intend the remark the way it looked in print.

"I want to apologize to Mr. Haney if he took anything personal," Wagner said. "I voiced an opinion of Mr. Haney the way he voiced an opinion of my fielding last year. But I didn't want to make a hate thing out of it."

"Communist Type Thing" appeared under a four-column headline in a Los Angeles newspaper last week as a Communist-type thing against the Angel club.

"That story was written up a different way than was meant by me," Wagner said. "I wasn't trying to make a big thing out of it."

"I don't put out hate stories. I was with the Angel organization three years and I'm not trying to drum up any feud."

The story in question quoted Wagner as saying: "Haney operates like he was a sort of Khrushchev. Everything has to be done his way or nothing."

Haney described the story as silly.

HIGH SPEED

Plymouth rocks racing world with sweep in Daytona "500"

According to the record book for stock cars in competition, there is no higher average speed for 500 miles than the 154.334 m.p.h. set by a competition-equipped 1964 Plymouth in winning last month's Daytona "500."

Adding to that glory is the fact that two more 1964 Plymouths finished 2nd and 3rd for a decisive Plymouth sweep. That suggests that Plymouths were not only the swiftest cars in the competition, but that they're built to stay in there all the way.

For the millions of racing fans and high-performance enthusiasts across the country, Plymouth is proud of its "high speed" victory at Daytona.

YOUR SPEED

Plymouth beats Ford & Chevrolet in tests of showroom V-8s

This competition was more "your speed." At Plymouth's request, an independent testing company bought and compared showroom models of Plymouth, Ford and Chevrolet.

The cars were comparably equipped standard V-8s — cars people buy. And the tests were of "things people buy a car for" — acceleration, handling, braking, and gas economy.

In test after test, Plymouth accelerated best, handled best, braked best, and got the best gas mileage. This is the kind of competition Plymouth most likes to win. "High speed" or "your speed," these 1964 Plymouths are tough to beat!

Older Persons Get Break in Tax Law

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Exceedingly valuable tax breaks are given to persons 65 years of age or older by the 1964 tax law—and, as I reported earlier, some of these special changes in the new law will save far more in taxes for individuals than the widely publicized rate cuts themselves.

Porter

A first important new break for older persons is a higher limit on the amount of retirement income on which the retirement income credit is based.

The reason this is so valuable is that, for persons 65 or over, the retirement income credit is a direct credit against their income tax. It is not just a deduction from taxable income, but actually is credited against per cent for 1964 and 15 per cent thereafter. This was done to fit in with the new lower tax rates and so the percentage cut doesn't in any way lessen the value of the credit.

Retirement Income
You can see that the higher the retirement income is, the greater the credit will be—except that the amount of retirement income eligible for credit cannot exceed $1,524 a person.

Thus, if each of a 65-year or older husband and wife were eligible for the maximum retirement income, their maximum credit for 1964 could be 17 per cent of $3,048. But the wife often is ineligible for retirement income because she hasn't earned $600 or more a year in each of any 10 calendar years. In this instance her $1,524 ceiling would have been limited just to the husband's $1,524, assuming he is fully eligible, which he probably is.

The 1964 law liberalizes this situation considerably. If either of the 65-year or older spouses has the necessary earnings experience, they can both elect in their joint return to claim a combined retirement income ceiling of $2,286. Of course, if the wife has Social Security or other payments which reduce the limit, the amount available to them must be cut by her payment or $824. Under the 1964 tax law look at your 1963 tax return, income, but has been cut to 17

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Warring Greek and Turkish Cypriots hammered at each other with mortars, automatic weapons and armored bulldozers at Kitima in western Cyprus today. They ignored U.N. and British truce force attempts to halt the fighting.

Fires started by shelling raged unchecked in the area. Greek Cypriot authorities said one member of their security forces was killed. There was no report on Turkish casualties, but the British army said five Turkish Cypriot hostages were killed in a nearby town.

British sources said both sides appeared well armed and well disciplined. The conflict broke out at dawn, ending a brief truce that followed skirmishes and near riots at Kitima the weekend.

Greek Cypriot forces claimed they had driven the Turks back from front line positions at the edge of the Turkish quarter, a warren of twisting, narrow streets jammed with small shops and living quarters.

A British commander and a U.N. official were reported killed by Turkish fire in a Greek Cypriot police station. A British spokesman said the Turks had agreed to a truce, but the Greeks had refused.

Meet With Makarios
Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh, commander of the proposed U.N. police force, arranged an urgent meeting with President Makarios and then planned to fly by helicopter to the battle area.

Government sources said the Turks opened fire at dawn without provocation from a minaret towering over the market place. A Greek Cypriot government spokesman in Nicosia said the "government retaliated with an 'all-out attempt by security forces to improve law and order'."

Telephone communications to the embattled town were cut, but the government spokesman said firing was continuous and the security forces were gaining ground.

The British said the Greek Cypriot police superintendent of the Kitima-Paphos district, Dimitri Papageorge, had been killed.

Schadeberg Assails Zanzibar Recognition

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States recognition of Zanzibar was criticized today by Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg, R-Wis., who has introduced a resolution to provide for a congressional investigation of the State Department.

"Zanzibar could well become the Cuba of Africa, serving as a staging area for Communist subversion and aggression to bring about a takeover of the Congo and the rest of Africa," Schadeberg said in a radio address.

"In Zanzibar a Castro - Communist-trained agent openly led the revolt. U.S. representatives were kicked out, and then we promptly recognized the new regime," Schadeberg said.

"The State Department apparently does not consider Zanzibar to be Communist influenced, despite the ties of its leaders to Castro's Cuba and that it has now been named a 'Peoples' Republic' the official designation of Communist countries."

Barney Ross Tells About Ruby as Boy

Says He 'Used to Steam Up, Turn Purple' in Arguments

BY RELMAN MORIN

DALLAS (AP) — Barney Ross, former world welterweight boxing champion, testified today that Jack Ruby as a teen-age boy "used to steam up and turn purple" when anyone disagreed with him.

Ross said he knew Ruby in Chicago when they were boys.

The former boxer was a second witness as the fourth week of Ruby's murder trial began. Ruby is charged with murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of President Kennedy.

Ross said he and Ruby grew up on Chicago's West Side. He said he and the accused man were members of what he called "the group," a band of about 12 boys.

No Trouble With Police
He pointed Ruby as a youth who "flew into tantrums" over trifles. He said, "we knew he would steam up pretty quick, and we used to protect him."

Ross said that so far as he knew Ruby had never had any trouble with the police.

Chief defense counsel Melvin Belli asked Ross if Ruby was given to using profanity.

The ex-boxer replied in the negative.
Belli asked if the phrase, "son of a bitch," was commonly used by Ruby and he said it was not. The question bears on a statement attributed to Ruby by police. They quoted him as saying after he shot Oswald, "I hope the son of a bitch dies."

Near Major Contention
Ross, member of the Marine Corps during World War II, said he knew Ruby as a "patriotic, red-blooded American." Ruby was in the Air Corps.

The defense was moving steadily toward the heart of Ruby's defense — their contention that he was in an emotional trance when he killed Oswald.

Bomb Suspected In Colombian Airliner Crash

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — A twin-engine Colombian airliner burst into flames in the air and crashed minutes before its scheduled landing at Bogota last night. All 25 passengers and 3 crewmen perished.

Civil Aeronautics chief Jaime Bedoya Perdomo said it was possible the crash was caused by a bomb aboard the plane. A DC3 of Taxisa Airlines. He said the pilot reported no emergency before he started to descend for a landing approach through smoky haze caused by forest fires in Bogota's suburbs.

A farmer near the scene, 18 miles northwest of Bogota, said he heard the plane just before it plunged to the ground in flames. He said it sounded as though one of its engines was failing.

"I saw a huge flame similar to the light produced by a can of gasoline aflame," he said.

The plane was flying from Pereira to Bogota. The passenger list indicated all aboard were Colombians.

Body of Greek Ruler Taken To Cathedral

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The body of King Paul of Greece, strangled by a gun carriage and followed by members of his grieving family, moved slowly through the hushed and crowded streets of the Greek capital today to lie in state in the Greek Orthodox cathedral.

Servicemen at attention lined both sides of the mile-long route through downtown Athens from the royal palace.

Walking behind the gun carriage were the new king, Paul's son, Constantine, 23; the widowed Queen Frederika, and other members of the royal family.

The 62-year-old monarch, who had reigned 17 years, died Friday of complications following stomach surgery Feb. 21.

The body will lie in state for three days, and the state funeral will be held Thursday.

In Washington, President Johnson announced that his wife and former President Harry S. Truman would head the American delegation to the funeral.

Plane Crashes Into Chicago Home Trying to Land at O'Hare Airport

CHICAGO (AP) — A chartered DC-3 airplane, trying to make a landing at O'Hare International Airport in misty weather, crashed into a house late Sunday night, killing the copilot, west of the airport.

The pilot and 28 passengers escaped. The pilot, who with the copilot was trapped in the cockpit feet. The tower then directed about two hours, was reported the pilot to retain altitude.

Cuts Through Workshop
In a few minutes, the pilot of a commercial airliner over O'Hare reported to the tower that he had heard another pilot in the air say over the radio, "I'm going down."

The north wall of the Golubski house was caved in by the plane. The house is near several vacant lots.

Golubski 52, said the plane struck the house from the east, plowed through a workshop and garage and stopped in a dining room and kitchen.

"If any of us had been down stairs, we'd probably have been killed," Golubski said. "It came in like a locomotive."

A short time later the pilot radioed the tower that he had lost altitude, from 2,500 to 1,500 feet. The tower then directed the pilot to retain altitude.

The pilot, Virgil Pronovost, 40, of Robinson, Ill., was rescued by firemen nearly two hours after the plane crashed. A few minutes later, firemen recovered the body of the copilot, Daniel Jordan of Gary, Ind.

Fire Chief Carl Selka said Pronovost told him that as he was on, Ohio.

The pilot radioed just after leaving Washington for Baltimore that he was experiencing difficulty with the nose wheel. The four-engine Constellation was diverted to John F. Kennedy International Airport in New York but poor weather forced it to continue on to Boston.

The flight originated in Dayton, Ohio.

BY NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today to mobilize and upgrade its manpower skills in a major effort to wipe out grimly persistent unemployment.

"Overcoming that unemployment is the greatest immediate manpower challenge before us," Johnson said in asking Congress for a broad range of legislation to create jobs and train workers.

The federal government cannot do the job alone, Johnson said in his annual manpower report to Congress.

Urges Unified Effort
Calling on business, labor and state and local governments to cooperate in creating an "active manpower policy," the President said: "These programs will take hold and succeed only when we become determined that nothing is to take priority over people."

Johnson's report was accompanied by Labor Department statistics emphasizing the plight of the poorly educated worker in an increasingly technical economy, and the alarmingly high rate of youths who can't find work.

Johnson's message was underscored by latest government figures showing that 800,000 new jobs in February did nothing to dent the nation's 4.5 million jobless total.

Affected by Automation
The reaction is the steadily growing flow of new workers into the labor market, particularly youths. Automated machinery that shrinks job opportunities also plays a part.

Johnson announced "two new major administrative actions" to study the impact of automation, and "to start a continuing top-level assessment of the relation of the government's programs and our country's manpower assets and needs."

He asked Congress to enact pending legislation dealing with youth unemployment, education extension of labor laws to include more workers and increased and broadened unemployment insurance.

Johnson will ask Congress to lower the draft age from 18 to 17 to give his "war on poverty" a chance to aid needy youngsters a year earlier, an official source reported today.

Special Work Schools
These subjects for the war on poverty, the source said, will be the 500,000 each year who fail the Army's General Classification Test. They will be given a chance to enter special

Libel Award Reversed by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously threw out today a $500,000 libel judgment awarded a Montgomery, Ala., city official in a suit against the New York Times and four Negro ministers.

In so doing, the court laid down a constitutional standard that a public official may not recover damages for a defamatory falsehood relating to his official conduct without showing of actual malice, or knowledge the statement was false or reckless disregard of whether or not it was false.

Justice William J. Brennan wrote the court's decision, while it was unanimous, three justices said it did not go far enough.

Separate Opinions
Justices Hugo L. Black and Arthur J. Goldberg, in separate concurring opinions, expressed regret that the court did not lay down a doctrine of unconditional freedom of the public and press to criticize official conduct.

Justice William O. Douglas noted that he agreed with both concurring opinions. The libel suit was based on publication of an advertisement in the Times of March 29, 1960. The advertisement had statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations.

L. B. Sullivan, police commissioner of Montgomery, won the award in Montgomery County Circuit Court with a contention that several paragraphs in the advertisement would be taken as reflecting on him.

McNamara and other top U.S. policy makers on the trip did not see the crash, which occurred a few minutes after they had walked away from the landing pad.

HOA HAO, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two U.S. Army enlisted men flying as gunners in a helicopter escorted U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara were killed here today when their craft lost power and crashed.

Pilot and copilot survived. No one else was aboard the helicopter.

The helicopter was a turbine-powered UH1B, the same type in which McNamara and South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Khanh were riding.

McNamara and other top U.S. policy makers on the trip did not see the crash, which occurred a few minutes after they had walked away from the landing pad.

College Heating Building Work To Start Soon

Stevens Point State Announces Plans for $788,797 Plant

STEVENS POINT — Construction is scheduled to begin this month on a new brick heating plant at Wisconsin State College here.

Work will push forward in order to assure completion by the 1965-66 academic year. Bids, opened recently in Madison, totaled $788,797 not including land, utilities, site development, steam lines and related costs.

Makeshift techniques are now being used to meet the heating demands of the growing college. The existing plant, located behind the school's main building, has become inadequate with the spread of the campus and the increase in the number of buildings.

Coal and natural gas will be used as fuel.

Low Bidder

One of the apparent low bidders is Ellis Stone Construction Co., with a figure of $233,594 for general construction of the building which will be located on N. Maria Drive, west of Reserve Street.

Other low bidders are electrical, Keil-Werner Electrical Co., Neenah, $40,880; mechanical and plumbing, J. F. Ahern, Fond du Lac, $164,790; coal handling, Beaumont Birch Co., Philadelphia, Pa., $67,760, and chimney, Consolidated Chimney Co., Chicago, $38,440.

Bids were opened last summer on boilers, controls and a $235,333 contract was awarded then.

Architects and engineers are Orr-Schelen-Mayeron and Associates, Minneapolis.

New School Possible for Marion Area

Congestion at High School Main Cause for Expansion

MARION — Plans for a new school in the Marion Joint School District were discussed last week.

During the informational meeting Thursday at the high school, officials explained the main reason for building a new school was to relieve congestion at the high school.

They explained the high school does not have enough classrooms, lacks space for the shop program and for teacher-student counseling.

Space Problem
In addition, they said the space problem allows the school no flexibility in program and allocating classes.

Possible financing was discussed which, if approved, would raise the tax rate by approximately 14 mils. The school district would pay interest on the debt only for the three of four years until other bonds and notes are paid up, then begin paying on the principal.

Officials gave an example of a home in the district assessed at $4,000. They said taxes for such a home would be $5.60 higher for a year.

Johnson Man in Middle Of Civil Rights Fight

Standing Firm May Hurt Him Politically
In South, Compromise a Hazard in North

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is the man in the middle in the civil rights fight, starting in the Senate. It wasn't like this a few years ago. As the summer of 1955 wore on he had plenty of time to wonder what the future held for him. He was recovering from a heart attack but felt far from finished. It soon became clear a heart condition didn't have to be a political handicap for within a few weeks President Dwight D. Eisenhower had an attack, too, and recovered to go on being an active president.

Senate Leader
Johnson returned to his job as the Democrats' Senate leader and in the last four years of Eisenhower's administration set a pace so furious and distinguished he decided he might even be able to be president himself.

In those years two of his outstanding achievements were getting a civil rights bill through in 1957, the first in this century, and another in 1960.

Johnson, a Southerner, did this over the opposition of Southern Democrats but these two measures never entirely satisfied anybody. They were compromises, stripped of sections which irritated Southerners most.

4 Years Later
Now, four years later, it's another election year, with Johnson hoping for a full, four-year term for himself. Once more a civil rights bill, backed by him, is before the Senate. The situation is not the same.

In the past getting any kind of civil rights bill passed, even though watered down, was considered quite an achievement, even if not perfect. But Johnson is president now, not just a Senate leader.

He has given full endorsement

State Forest Laboratory Addition Seen

Kastenmeier Says Proposal Will Get Committee Approval

BY FRANCES McKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Water-town, announced he had been given the personal assurance of Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, house interior appropriations subcommittee chairman, that funds for the $2.8 million addition to the forest products laboratory in Madison had been approved.

"This assurance is as important a development for the Madison laboratory as our successful fight to have the President include funds for the project in the fiscal 1965 budget," Kastenmeier said.

"Favorable appropriations committee action should mean early passage of funds for the new laboratory facility," Rep. Kastenmeier noted. "The house almost always adopts the committee's recommendations, and the senate which had provided funds for the addition in last year's appropriations is expected to do so again."

Blocks Funds
Kastenmeier did not mention it, but Rep. Kirwan, chairman of the house conferees on the interior department appropriations measure, knocked the funds for the laboratory expansion out of the report himself last year.

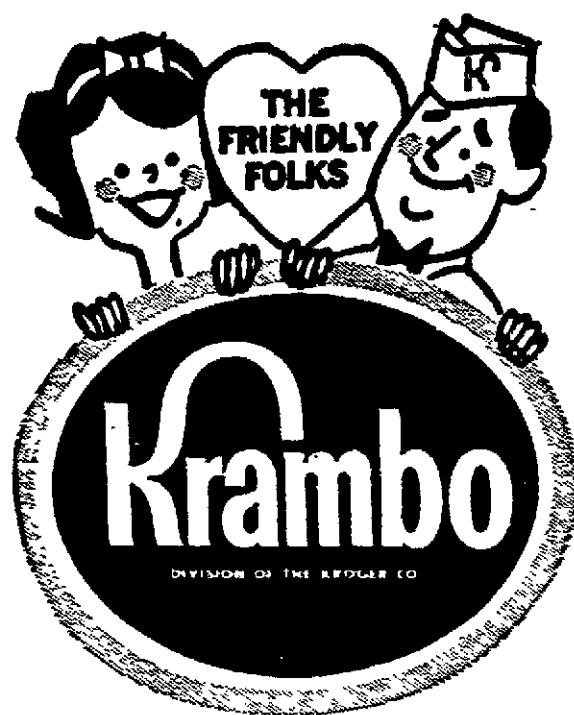

He did this, Kirwan told this reporter, because "Senator Proxmire misinformed the public in Wisconsin about the aquarium I sponsored to be located in the nation's capital."

Senator Proxmire said that this aquarium was a waste of the taxpayers' money, when he knew very well admission would be charged to go through the project, and that it would pay for itself with interest in a very few years," continued Kirwan.

"Good Job"
The Ohio congressman relented over the laboratory, he said, because he felt "Bob Kastenmeier was doing a good job for this district and deserved to have the enlarged laboratory in Madison."

Kastenmeier hopes construction can start on the laboratory by mid-summer. The facility will be used for extended basic research on the utilization of forest products.

Both Kastenmeier and Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Marshfield, urged approval of funds for the project, which will cost an estimated total $10 million and will be built over a two or three-year period. It is expected to provide facilities for an additional 140 staff members.

First Fight Won

Not One Scratch or Flinch In 'Sabin on Sunday' Battle

Outagamie County was a "battleground" Sunday but not a person received a scratch or even flinched—thanks to oral vaccine.

Small paper cups, each containing two drops of type I anti-polio vaccine, took the place of needles.

Instead of the customary "ouch" which sometimes accompanies an injection, more than 62,000 taking the Sabin vaccine enjoyed every bit of it.

It wasn't until late in the afternoon that the Sabin on Sunday (S.O.S.) project was acclaimed a success and the first battle had been won.

Doctors Park, 424 E. Longview Dr., was the nerve-center of the countywide immunization program aimed at making an all-out attack against polio.

With an estimated 500 volunteers set for action, the "launching," shortly before 11 a.m., was smooth. Ten centers in the city and county area lined up "ammunition" on rows of tables.

Shortly after the launching, however, there were some anxious moments. Officials of the Outagamie County Medical Society and others crossed fingers hoping the public had gotten the message.

By noon their fears vanished as thousands made their way to clinics in Appleton, Kimberly, Kaukauna, Hortonville, New London and Seymour.

There were many human interest stories that unfolded during the day, but it was impossible to record them all.

For example, the Salvation Army made it a point to round up several underprivileged children and made sure they got their doses of vaccine.

A group of teenagers volunteered their cars and offered to chauffeur people to and from the clinics if they could not obtain transportation.

The command post for the 10-pronged operation was the office of Dr. Jack G. Anderson, County Medical Society president. It was here that Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, chairman of the Sabin on Sunday project, and Dr. Lloyd Williams, Appleton, medical director, kept close tabs on activities at the clinics.

Every hour the 18 clinics reported on attendance, vaccine administered and how much was left. This information was supplied a team of county pharmacists headed by James Grunwald of Appleton.

Members of the Civil Air Patrol and county police were on standby basis to rush vaccine to any sector of the county when needed.

The pharmacists had a real workout. First they thawed out the vaccine which had been under refrigeration for a week, and then they proceeded to dispense 165,000 drops of vaccine in some 82,000 cubes of sugar.

During the afternoon roads became slippery in the rural areas but still people kept coming. For a while a few of the clinics processed more than 1,500 persons per hour. In last week's mock clinic, it was estimated about 1,000 could be handled in an hour.

By 3 p.m. Dr. Behnke reported that 64,061 persons had already received oral vaccine. It was estimated that close to 1,000 babies over two months of age were brought to the clinics. The pre-registration slips issued for those persons under 18 years of age was a real timesaver, officials said. As a result the lines moved smoothly.

One family checked in with 15 children, and it took four registration slips to record all their names.

During mid-afternoon, it was feared one of the centers to the north was about to run out of vaccine, but it proved to be a false alarm. Those stationed at Doctors' Park could estimate by the amount of vaccine being shipped out how many doses were being given.

There was one incident when the clinic at Morgan School was without vaccine for about 20 minutes. It was attributed to a sudden heavy influx of vaccine-seekers.

In Appleton where there were five clinics, 42,102 doses were administered — Morgan School setting the pace with 9,200. In the county, Kaukauna's clinic had a hectic workout with 11,800, followed by Kimberly with 11,650.

At each of the clinics, doctors, nurses and countless other volunteers gave their "patients" smiling assurances that all was well on Sabin Sunday. It was a painless battle.

Good Teen-Agers Do Make News

A favorite cliché of persons coming to the defense of teen-agers is that "We always see headlines about teen-agers in trouble. Why don't we ever see headlines about the good teens?"

While by no means slighting their justified concern over teen-age problems and the bad impression created by the minority of teen-agers who qualify as delinquent, we would like to suggest that they come out from behind the cliché and read the headlines. They will discover that the "good" teen-agers — who, we thankfully believe, are a large majority — earn far more headlines, stories and pictures than the trouble-makers.

A People's Forum correspondent last week, in a letter which thoughtfully pointed out the blame shared by "delinquent parents" for minors in trouble, states, "Why don't we have newspaper articles every day about the things teens are doing to help others? There must be stories of this type coming into newspaper offices. Let's have them."

To this, we reply that there are stories of this type coming into this newspaper office and sought out by reporters every day, and there are stories of this type appearing in the paper every day.

Within the last week alone, he could have read stories, and seen pictures, given large headlines and prominent display, about the "Most Valuable Students" awards given by the Appleton Elks to high school seniors, the top 10 seniors at Appleton High School, the science fair at Fox Valley Lutheran High School, Xavier High School's Carnival of Arts, Badger Boys' State delegates at Appleton High School, the astronomy club at Fox Valley Lutheran, conference basketball championships won by the three Appleton high schools, the Appleton Youth Council's participation in the Red Cross fund drive, tournament play by Xavier and Fox Valley Lutheran, an AHS dance concluding a week of activities to raise funds for the American Field Service foreign student exchange program, plans for the Boy Scout snow derby, a Sadie Hawkins dance by Tri-Y and Hi-Y clubs to sponsor Appleton delegates at the YMCA State Youth in Government program, a Lenten play prepared by the First Congregational Church youth group, a state winner in the Voice of Democracy contest from St. Mary School, Menasha.

When teen-agers cause trouble, it is news. The public must be aware of the problem before they will become concerned enough to seek solutions for it.

When teen-agers show their talents, abilities and good will in school, extracurricular, church, community and individual activities and successes, it also is news. You have found and will find it in the Post-Crescent.

Viet Nam in Perspective

As Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara heads once more for Viet Nam — his third trip in five months — we must wonder what further information he is going to get. The failures of United States policy, coupled with the failures of the South Vietnamese to understand what the war is all about, can hardly be more clear.

The Vietnamese picture is part of a general disillusionment among Americans over what has happened to the brave new world of liberty and independence we helped sponsor in so many countries recently released from colonial rule. What went wrong? Why didn't Indonesia, Laos, Ghana, Tanganyika and a dozen others develop the way the United States of the 18th and 19th Centuries did once Great Britain's red coats were sent packing? And does the United States have the responsibility for the failures and the resort to new tyrants to replace the old?

In the first place, of course, this is not the 18th Century and the new countries have not had the opportunity which the United States did to work out its problems in isolation and virtual independence from other nations. In the second place, the leaders of the infant United States were not neophytes in government; the majority of them were highly educated and experienced as well as conditioned by their heritage of the Anglo-Saxon growth toward more individual liberty. The patriots of 1776 quoted liberally from French and British philosophers of the years preceding the French Revolution and the more gradual emergence of universal suffrage in England.

To a large extent the troubles in Africa are the result of long standing tribal rivalries and the only way they can be erased is through time and perhaps a far more dictatorial type of government than meets our standards. In Southeast Asia there is an equal lack of real national allegiance among peoples who belong to different tribes and ways of life and have been united only through the colonial master or the artificial boundaries set up when England, France and Holland went home. By heritage there is little reason why Cambodians should feel strongly about Cambodia, why Malaysia should be one or why New Guinea should be split in half.

But what of the United States role in these areas of the world where self-government of a responsible nature will take time?

Many of the advisors in Washington seem to be enchanted by the phrase coined by author D. H. Brogan, the "myth of American omnipotence." In itself the phrase is correct. We cannot be blaming ourselves for everything that goes wrong in the world.

But the next step from that attitude is unfortunately one of the inevitability of certain changes in the world. We helped push Holland out of West New Guinea because we thought Indonesia's control of the area was "inevitable." We withdrew from Laos because we felt it was "inevitable" that the Laotians could not unite to oppose the Communists. We thought it was "inevitable" that Dien was going to be deposed so we helped give him a push. We have hastened to recognize rebel regimes in Africa because we think it is "inevitable" that they go through a Marxist phase.

And yet when we look back over the years since the end of World War II, we can see that certain events that have taken place were not inevitable at all and that our failures to act or take firm stands contributed to them. Had we knocked down the first bricks and barbed wire of the Berlin Wall it would not stand today. Had we sent air cover to the Bay of Pigs, Castro would be gone and we would not have had to go through the crisis with the Soviet missiles in Cuba. Had we made it clear that Canal Zone residents were not to make our foreign policy, we wouldn't be currently dickering with Panama in an atmosphere of distrust.

What we must remember in the future is that, while we cannot completely shape world events, we can have a considerable influence and our hemming and hawing foreign policy, most noticeable since Mr. Kennedy took office, in itself influences. Our "prestige" as a world leader must be at an all-time low. But of more importance, the failures will have a bearing upon the way other world leaders turn.

In Southeast Asia, there are certainly more who are interested in France's proposals for neutrality than there would have been a year ago. Whatever reports Secretary McNamara brings back this time, it is obvious that we are not only not containing the Viet Cong in Viet Nam, we are losing to them. And our wishy-washy military policy is not the only or perhaps even the major reason we are losing. We seem to have forgotten what it is we have to offer to the rest of the world.

Our contribution is liberty, the respect for man, the dignity of the individual that does not depend upon a person's color or heritage for its value. We seem to have forgotten that our material plenty stemmed from the freedoms we possess and not the other way around. And while it may be true that a hungry man is not interested in ideologies, it is ideology that makes him endure hunger for a future.

We have been plagued by an emotional approach to our own ideology. We cannot put up with dictatorial regimes in the new countries — unless they are leftist dictatorial regimes. It is all right for us to criticize and belabor and help in the downfall of right-wing dictators but we must put up with the left-wing ones since they are supposed to be tending in the right direction. The falsity of this point of view is obvious. It is being exploded in some Latin American countries which cast out their representative governments with military and strong man coups. Our acceptance of this indicates perhaps that we are learning a lesson.

In South Viet Nam we have three alternatives. We can get out as fast as we are able — and this seemed to be the attitude of President Kennedy. We can take the war to North Viet Nam. Or we can make things a lot tougher for the Viet Cong and then try to arrange a cease fire.

None is very satisfactory. If we withdraw, South Viet Nam and the rest of Southeast Asia will be "neutralized" until such a time as the Communists want to move a little further. If we invade the north, we may draw the Red Chinese and certainly will lose a lot more Americans. If we arrange the cease-fire, Viet Nam will be partitioned as is Korea and require United States or United Nations defense of the border.

But the current instability is almost certainly going to degenerate into yet another coup and another, with the Viet Cong making advances every time a new leader is overthrown. We are stuck with Viet Nam and we must realize that, while we cannot dictate every action, nothing is inevitable.

10 YEARS AGO

Will H. Hays, so-called movie czar for 24 years, died at the age of 74. Hays was president of the Motion Pictures Producers and Distributors of America and it was the "Hays office" code of good taste in movies that prevailed for many years in the industry.

Mr. Hoffa cannot provide an armor against this darting fear.

There is something peculiarly offensive and repugnant in the charge of bribing a jury. The act poisons the process of impartial justice and brings the shadow of corruption into the courtroom itself. Mr. Hoffa has been found guilty of no trumpery misdeed at Chattanooga. To tamper with a jury and escape punishment, would make a mockery of justice and place an arrogant and powerful citizen above the law. Mr. Hoffa is now being reminded of this truth, and the lesson is being enforced with scorpions because he derided it for so long.

He never missed the touch of characteristic arrogance even in his hour of shame and bitterness. His first words after the conviction were a denunciation of the impartiality of the court where he had received a fair trial.

INSOLENT USE OF POWER

These outbursts are very familiar to those who have watched Mr. Hoffa's performances over the years before Congressional committees. His sullen demeanor and reproachful language often silenced the people who would otherwise have protested the sustained and remorseless exposure which he endured. Even Mr. Hoffa is entitled to his full constitutional rights before a committee of Congress. Yet somehow that principle remained a pallid truism rather than a blazing conviction when Mr. Hoffa was the witness. For he testified against himself more effectively than any barbed accuser; and his insolent parade of personal power inevitably provoked, though it scarcely justified, the harsh reprisals of the committee.

Now he has once again derided and degraded the judicial process which is the ultimate safeguard of American freedom. It is an affront to reason for Mr. Hoffa to claim that he is "being railroaded" to jail; and an insult to justice for him to argue that a poor man faces desperate odds in an American court. Our predicament is more wretched than anyone had dared to conceive if we must learn our principles of justice from Mr. Hoffa.

The American people will not fail to notice that Mr. Hoffa has been brought to his knees. Others elected were Mrs. Roderick Robinson, vice president; Mrs. Leland Forrest, secretary; Mrs. George Ois, treasurer; Mrs. Roy Stroessner, conductress; Mrs. Adelbert Boettcher, page; Mrs. Harold Kalmes, sentinel; Mrs. G. Mrs. H. O. Griffith, Menasha, and Mrs. A. E. Zupke, Appleton, were named co-chairmen of the benefit dinner bridge being sponsored by the Fox Valley Pan-Hellenic Alumnae Association.

present crisis not by any revolution in the union against his leadership but by the actions of a judge and jury. The union indeed has steadily turned a face of flint to his shabby standards and strident self-advertisement. It has pretended not to see his garish blunders or else has sponged them out in a swift gesture of moral neutrality. All it wanted was better contracts, and it rarely vexed its conscience with doubts about how they had been obtained.

TRIUMPH OF POWER

Yet the truth cannot be escaped that Mr. Hoffa is a vulgar anachronism in the American labor movement. His methods and his values are repudiated by the responsible leaders of that movement. He has behaved in a manner which has recalled the worst days of big business when corporations asserted their power with small concern for the public interest. This belief in the triumph of sheer power — raw, primitive, coercive, unrepentant — has long vanished from American corporate life. But its last disgraceful defiance has echoed on Mr. Hoffa's angry lips. The most mortifying judgment of all on Mr. Hoffa must surely be that he has run his unions on the principles which the trade union movement tried to uproot and destroy in the economic life of America.

Even now there is no assurance that Mr. Hoffa will be cast aside by his union. He may win his case on appeal; he will prolong his freedom by every contrivance open to him under the law; and he may set up stooges and puppets to guard his empire until he emerges from his ordeal. All this certainly is possible but it would be fatal to the union's reputation.

For it would confirm the criticism that the union, in Mr. Hoffa, has exactly the leader which it deserves and wants. No union, no matter what its power, can create that impression and retain any degree of public respect. Mr. Hoffa's trial at Chattanooga has ended. The far greater trial testing the moral purposes and destiny of the Teamsters' Union has now begun.

It is necessary to emphasize at this point that there is not involved here any serious questions of public rights or public policy. Political committees are not governmental institutions. Wisconsin has what is perhaps the most advanced law in the country assuring full public reporting of the affairs of public bodies, from the town hall to the State Capitol. Nobody since that law was enacted and nobody at the time it was being enacted ever seriously asserted that

Democrats in State

Prove More Adept at Publicity Than Rivals

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Why should it be, asked an interested friend the other day, that the newspapers have so many and such detailed accounts of the internal affairs of the Democratic Party organization and so few about the Republican Party?

Wyngaard

It is a good question, as the practicing politician would say, and it relates to a curious distinction in the rules of the party organizations that evidently is little known outside the ranks of professional politicians and reporters.

To a major degree, the disparity in organization publicity between the parties results from the fact that the Democratic state organization has opened the doors of all of its meetings to the public — and notably the press — while the Republican party traditionally has conducted its corporate affairs privately.

This reporter does not remember a meeting of the Republican State Committee that was "open," in the sense that reporters were welcomed. Conversely, this reporter doesn't remember a session of the Democratic State Committee since the revival of the party a decade and a half ago that was "closed," in the sense that reporters were barred from looking on and relating what they saw and heard.

WHY?

It is necessary to emphasize at this point that there is not involved here any serious questions of public rights or public policy. Political committees are not governmental institutions. Wisconsin has what is perhaps the most advanced law in the country assuring full public reporting of the affairs of public bodies, from the town hall to the State Capitol. This distinction in the policies of the rival parties in matter of taste and behavior, in part, to the different histories of the competitive organizations.

Democrats during their period of recovery as a competitive party wanted public and maximum publicity and public interest in their activities. One way to sure it was to welcome reporters to their organizational deliberations. By attracting the interest of the general public, there was a chance party might attract adherents.

Now that the parties are approximately equal politically, there are probably orations when some of the Democratic leaders wonder at the wisdom of their open meeting rule. The ferocious fighting recently for organization control brought unfavorable publicity and surely so doubts to the minds of some sympathizers about the capacity of the incumbent party commanders and their

Permanent Tenure for Rabinovitz To be Confirmed, Gronouski Says

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

WASHINGTON — Acting Federal District Judge David Rabinovitz of Madison, whose appointment several months ago was the cause of historic commotion among Wisconsin Democratic politicians, will be confirmed for permanent tenure, according to a man Wyngaard who ought to know.

The forecast comes from Postmaster General John Gronouski, who travels in Wisconsin politics with the faction that backed Rabinovitz for the controversial appointment.

As the situation now stands, Rabinovitz has an interim appointment from President Lyndon Johnson. That means that he can serve until the end of this congressional session without confirmation by the U. S. Senate—no more. To stay on the bench beyond that time, he needs formal senate approval. He was originally named by the late President John F. Kennedy nearly a year ago.

John C. Doerflinger, the Wisconsin man who was head of the Federal Communications Commission during the Eisenhower administration, is now prospering as a lawyer in Miami, Fla.

Ex-Marine Held For Threatening The President

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—A 32-year-old ex-Marine was held today after allegedly admitting to mailing threatening letters to President Johnson.

Authorities said Norman J. Estes of Nashua also told them he had planned to go to Washington, buy a rifle and await an opportunity to shoot the President.

Estes waived preliminary hearing before a U.S. commissioner Sunday after being arrested. He was held for further action.

Nashua Police Chief Paul J. Tracy said Estes admitted mailing three threatening letters to Johnson.

Tracy quoted Estes as saying he received a general discharge from the Marines and had lost several jobs when his service record became known.

6 Lives Lost in 3 Weekend Crashes

Trains Figure in Collisions Which Caused Three Deaths

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Three crashes claimed two lives each as Wisconsin's weekend traffic toll reach 11, raising the total for the year to 163, compared with 106 on this date a year ago. Trains figured in collisions claiming three lives.

John H. Sutton, 23, and Robert H. Henning, 22, both of Columbus, were killed early Sunday when struck by a car as they walked along Highway 151 on the northeast outskirts of Madison after their own car had stalled.

Driver Fled
The driver of the car that struck them fled, but parts of the car and a license plate were found at the scene. Police traced the car to a man identified by Deputy Dane County Coroner John Stevenson as Gerald Wittner, 27, of Madison, the father of five. Wittner was charged with homicide with a vehicle while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to give aid.

Stevenson said Sutton and Henning were struck from behind as they walked on the right side of the road toward a filling station. Stevenson said a witness related that after the two were hit, the driver got out of the car, closed the hood, and drove away.

Ruby's defense is temporary insanity.

Strip teaser Patricia Ann Kohs, 21, who once performed in one of Ruby's Dallas nightclubs, is expected to testify that Ruby once beat up a tax driver, then suddenly asked: "What am I doing?"

Policeman Questioned
Similarly, defense attorney Joe Tonahill questioned a Dallas policeman about Ruby's reactions immediately after Oswald was killed.

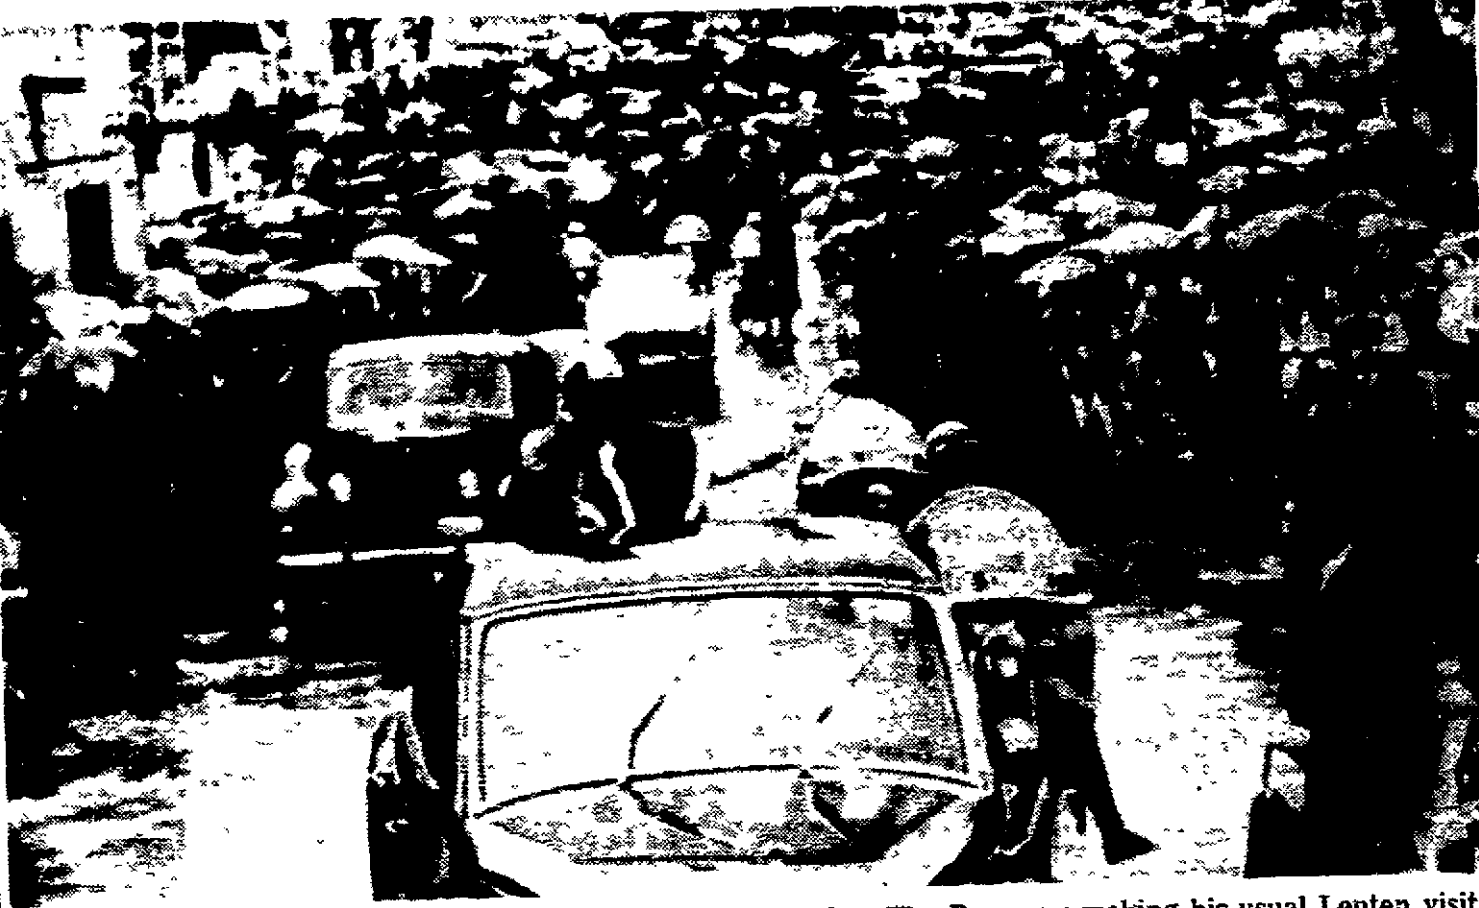

Tonahill asked: "And when you said to Jack, 'Why did you do it?' he replied, 'Do what?' Isn't that a fact?"

The officer denied hearing Ruby say this.

Police testified that during the examination which they say took place about 30 minutes after Oswald was killed, Ruby made some statements, including:

"I intended to shoot him (Oswald) three times, but you-all moved in so fast I couldn't get the other two away."

10-Point Civil Rights Bill Up For Senate Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate began its historic civil rights debate today with few members willing to predict how or when it will end.

The 10-point measure, which cleared the House 290-130 four weeks ago and has President Johnson's firm support, represents a broad attempt to advance the rights of Negroes.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana will make the first move soon after the Senate convenes with a simple motion to consider the bill. The motion is debatable and Southerners have said they will be ready to debate it, perhaps for longer than a week.

This raises the possibility of a double filibuster—the motion to take up the bill and then on the bill itself.

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—West Hartford Republicans will hold their own presidential "primary" April 15.

The last time such a poll was held in West Hartford was in the spring of 1952. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower won.

Ammunition From World War Explodes, Killing 3 Marines

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP) — Strange things are sometimes buried and later unearthed in the windswept desert.

For three young men, death was unearched by the shifting sands.

Buried ammunition, left over from the desert combat training days of World War II, exploded Saturday, killing three Marines and injuring two others while about 20,000 men were on maneuvers in the area.

The dead were: Pvt. Jack W. Cowser, 17, Oakland, Calif.; Pvt. David P. Barnes, 20, St. Louis, Mo.; and Cpl. Peter S. Lopez, who lived on the base.

Injured were Pfc. Gary P. Betters, 20, and Lance Cpl. Roger D. Rusnak, 20, both of Chicago.

A Marine spokesman said he did not know what the five were doing at the time of the explosion or what detonated the blast.

He said demolition experts periodically check the training ground for explosive caches uncovered by the winds.

Sihanouk said Russia will also provide Cambodia heavy machine guns, 75mm artillery pieces and mortars.

Question of Funds

Laird Refutes McNamara's Charge on South Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said today Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is trying to blame Congress for a worsening situation in the war against the Communists in Viet Nam.

In closed-door hearings by the House Defense Appropriations sub-committee, Laird said McNamara contended Congress failed to supply sufficient funds to carry on operations in South Viet Nam.

"I am in conflict with Secretary McNamara on this," Laird said. "Congress will support any request for funds that he makes, or the administration makes, to carry on the conduct of the war in Viet Nam."

Foreign Aid
The secretary claimed that Congress cut down money in the foreign aid bill for military assistance. He said the administration asked for $1.4 billion but Congress only supplied $1 billion. He said that as a result they had to hold down funds to conduct the war in Viet Nam.

"I told Secretary McNamara this was not so. I told him he has the authority to transfer funds in the Defense Department to carry on the action in South Viet Nam."

"Congress will provide a any amount of funds that Secretary McNamara says is needed to carry on the war in Viet Nam."

3 Alternatives
Laird outlined three alternatives he said are open to the United States in that far east country.

"One," he said, "is to continue present operations with the 16,000 U.S. military advisers aiding the South Viet Nam government. This would take five to six years to show progress in winning the war."

"The second is to pull out and support a neutral government in North and South Viet Nam comparable to the agreement made in Laos two years ago. That resulted in a complete turnover to the Communists."

War Effort
"The third, which I support, is to step up the war effort. This would include accepting troops from nations willing to contribute troops to the operations and making greater contributions of our own materials and supplies. And we would have to be willing to carry on the war under the same rules as those used by the North Vietnamese."

This would include, Laird said, hitting at eight or nine strategic areas where supplies are located in North Viet Nam and blockading junks that ferry war supplies to the communists.

"I feel the time has come for use of the third alternative," Laird said. "And the American people will support this so the war does not drag on for 10 years."

Greeks, Turks In New Clash

fused to deal with anyone except Gani.

Papageorge apparently was reflecting the new tough line of the Makarios government in accepting local truce arrangements. The government accused the Turks last week of using the cease-fires to slip into offensive positions before the arrival of the U.N. force.

Gani had flown to Ktima Sunday after a battle Saturday in which six Greeks and a Turk were killed and at least a score of persons were injured. Most of the casualties were from Turkish fire from the same minaret. The Turks took more than 200 Greek hostages.

With Ktima's market place still a confusion of overturned tables, dead pigs and scattered vegetables, the truce officers achieved a cease-fire and promises from the Turks to release the hostages. After Gani returned to Nicosia, the Turks freed 37 more Greeks, bringing the total number of hostages released in Ktima to 265.

A Marine spokesman said he did not know what the five were doing at the time of the explosion or what detonated the blast.

He said demolition experts periodically check the training ground for explosive caches uncovered by the winds.

More Room Ordered For Club Waitresses
WINNIPEG, Man. (AP)—The Manitoba Liquor Control Board put it up to the night spots: either give scantily clad waitresses more maneuvering room or make them wear more clothes.

The aim was to discourage "slappers and pinchers," a commission spokesman said.

The deadline was March 1. So far three Winnipeg spots have dressed the girls up rather than increase the floor space per customer from 12 square feet to 14.

Tax Rates Not Prime Cause of Economic Woes

Balance in Sales, Profit Margin and Wages Important

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Many an individual doesn't look farther ahead than a few weeks or months. The politicians, therefore, think only in terms of what the popular mood will be at the time of this year's elections. But business has to do long-range planning. Government ought to do so, too, but somehow avoids it.

This is why a 12,000-word address by Henry H. Fowler, undersecretary of the Treasury, delivered here the other day to the annual Conference of the Tax Executives Institute, deserves attention as perhaps the most comprehensive defense of the administration's tax policies that has yet been made by anyone.

Mr. Fowler says that "new currents that have emerged in the last two years mark a turning point in national tax policy." He sees this as a stimulus to the "private enterprise sector" and emphasizes the role of the government "in promoting maximum employment, production and purchasing power" as a sequel to the employment act of 1946.

The undersecretary refers casually to "the defects that remain." He quotes approvingly from the utterances of the late President Johnson concerning their conscientious and earnest attempts to reduce government expenditures.

1962 Enactments
Mr. Fowler would like to have the public believe that the new tax law and the changes enacted in 1962 on depreciation allowances for corporations were not intended as "quickie" tax measures taken on the spur of the moment "to meet a temporary or passing situation." He feels justified apparently in describing them as broad-gauged laws designed to have lasting effects. But he fails to give equal attention to the factors in the national economy which have made previous tax rates "too high for healthy economic growth."

What is overlooked is that tax rates by themselves are not the primary reason for economic troubles. High tax rates in business are not hard to take if the volume of sales is substantially increased or the profit margin is moved up considerably, thus permitting wage increases as productivity is improved. Perhaps most salutary is the undersecretary's statement that the administration in proposing tax changes realized that national growth cannot be achieved "by a massive increase in federal spending well beyond the necessities of mounting defense and space costs." But, by the same token, it may be said by way of warning that financial stability will not be achieved by continuous deficits and by a refusal to face up to the real causes of inflation, among them the wage and price spirals.

Price Stability
Almost no attention is given in this admirable address by Mr. Fowler to methods of achieving price stability and steadiness in wage adjustments. The federal government for political reasons avoids this kind of discussion, but it is the largest single factor in forecasting accurately the long-range effects of the tax cut on business and finance. Investment in new plant and equipment to meet new demands arising from consumer spending can be readily predicted as likely to rise, but the benefits can be negated if wage rates start running away and wage costs are materially augmented.

Mr. Fowler speaks of the past inability of business to increase its investment in new plant or equipment and concedes that "corporate profits after taxes, even after the early expansion of 1961, remain below former levels as a percent of investment capital, of sales, or of the questions in the administration's corporate portion of our gross national product."

To Your Good Health

Starvation Diet Can Succeed in Some Cases

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have read with interest about a new concept in weight reduction whereby a patient is hospitalized and placed on a regimen of total abstinence of food for several weeks, depending on circumstances.

Has this been researched in my area? If so, Dr. Molner, how could I be included in such a treatment group? (J. A. V.)

The American Medical Association and a number of other groups have had reports on this type of reducing, and there have been several articles concerning it. I am sure you have spelled them out, he declares that "to tax policy must be related 'to other instruments to meet the ever-changing conditions that will affect a free economy in the type of open world in which we live.' He is very general in his discussion of 'monetary and debt management policies, which are indeed vitally affected by the international flow of goods and money. He recognizes, incidentally, that unemployment has not been cured and that, with the growth of population, there will be need for more job creation."

The undersecretary is enthusiastic in this belief that the new tax laws "have already provided an important psychological thrust" but adds realistically that "a healthy economic recovery and growth depends heavily upon the confidence, initiative, incentive, optimism and industry of the private citizen and the private business sector."

Lack of Confidence
A lack of "confidence" unfortunately ensues, however, when the administration, in the midst of its new-found affinity for private business, comes out, as it did recently, in favor of double pay for overtime and, except for token reductions in current expenditures—which are designed to make headlines—does not substantially cut the $5 billion deficit for next year.

Already the total deficits accumulated in five out of the last six years amount to $31.7 billion. How long can "confidence" last and the purchasing power of the dollar be kept from further declines if government spending—largely for political reasons—continues and labor leaders threaten big strikes unless wage increases are granted in this year of supposed affluence? These are the unanswered questions in the administration's corporate portion of our gross national product."

How to change your eating habits by yourself? I suggest that you read a couple of my leaflets. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Ask for the pair of them, "Lost Secret of Reducing" and "The Calorie Chart."

Breathing Trouble

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes difficulty in breathing in a boy of 12? He has complained frequently for about two years. Doctors have checked him, including a cardiogram, and have found nothing wrong.

It makes me very upset as he cries and can't sleep. Will he outgrow this? Is it just nervousness, as one doctor said? (MRS. A. M.)

Difficulty in breathing is unusual in a youngster. If a child has asthma or a heart condition you might expect it. The examinations in this case would certainly have uncovered these, if they existed.

Therefore the "nervousness" suggestion makes sense. I also suspect some psychological disturbance. The crying implies it, too.

For a clue observe his play patterns, attitude toward school, relationship to friends or members of the family. If you and the doctor can't solve the problem you might consider consulting a child psychologist.

NOTE TO "READER": No, leukemia is not contagious. The exact cause of it, however, is not yet apparent, although this is under considerable study.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20c in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible. (Copyright, 1964)

Gas Firm Plans Freedom Survey

FREEDOM—The Wisconsin Gas Co. will start a house-to-house survey in the Town of Freedom today, according to Leo P. Driessen, manager of the utility's Kaukauna District. Driessen said the survey is designed to determine the number of residents who might be interested in natural gas service. The utility does not now serve Freedom, but does serve a number of communities in the area. The survey is expected to take several days. The Wisconsin Gas Co. is a division of Milwaukee Gas Light Co., which presently serves more than 100 communities in the state.

Actor Regis Toomey 35-Year Policeman

His Roles Run From Captain to Patrolman;
Now Detective for TV's Capt. Amos Burke

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Regis Toomey is celebrating this month his 35th anniversary as a cop.
Over those years he has served as patrolman, detective, uniformed man, plainclothesman, captain and commissioner. He often has taken leave of the force to be a private eye, a chief investigator, an insurance investigator and a newspaper reporter.
After all this experience, Toomey today is a mere detective sergeant, running errands for that rich, glamorous, girl-chasing, intrepid captain of homicide, Amos Burke, who weekly solves a case on ABC's "Burke's Law."
Toomey, an open-faced man with white hair and twinkling blue eyes is a performer who never has objected seriously to Hollywood's type-casting. It has worked out fine for him. When Hollywood producers need a

Love Thrives On Moon in Limits Show

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — The Outer Limits takes viewers to a moon-based scientific expedition where Alex Nicol proposes marriage to scientist Ruth Roman. But the pursuit of romance is interrupted by some glowing eyes belonging to higher intelligence beings living as refugees from their planet inside a moonstone.
6:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — "The 39 Steps," a classic mystery-suspense tale, is playing in your living room on Monday Night at the Movies. This is a 1960 remake starring Kenneth More and Taina Elg. (Color)
7:30-8 (Channel 2) — The Lucy Show goes to the dogs for a good episode. The barking of Nelson, Mooney's dog, sets off a chain reaction among dogs in the neighborhood which gives Lucy so many sleepless nights she decides to sue, acting as her own attorney.
7:30-9 (Channel 11) — Wagon Train doesn't want to admit it, but "The Duncan McIvor Story" is a pilot for a possible series for Ron Hayes. He plays an Army lieutenant, a character properly square-jawed and heroic. (Color)
8:30-9 (Channel 2) — Howard Morris, who is all over television, shows up on The Danny Thomas Show as a self-proclaimed leprechaun banished from the Old Sod by the Leprechaun Committee because he was too happy for the job.
8:30-9 (Channel 2) — Fans are advised to watch a very funny Andy Griffith Show and see Don Knotts and Jim Nabors try to enforce the law while Andy is on vacation. They get locked in cells, and handcuffed together, and have to go to Andy for help.
9-10 (Channel 11) — Another sensitive portrayal from Bradford Dillman gives Breakin' Point an absorbing episode. Dillman plays a popular young doctor on the way up who is blinded in an automobile accident. Neither he nor his wife (Diane Foster) can come to grips with the harsh realities of the situation.
9-10 (Channel 2) — East Side West Side examines the mixed-up morality of basically honest people who see nothing wrong in playing the numbers. George C. Scott is involved when young Paul Mace, a runner for his aunt, comes to his office by mistake. And he pursues the issue, along with Congressman Linden Chiles.
9-10 (Channel 4-5) — Sing Along With Mitch continues to prove it knows the alphabet when songs inspired by the letters H, I, J and K provide the basis for an excursion to the H.M.S. Pinafore, to an island, to a bar where they sing of Jesse James, and to a song with a kick in it. (Color)

Live Within Your Income Life With Father Easier If He'll Face His Finances

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:
My father is 60. He operates a one-man business and all income stops the day he doesn't work. He has no will, no life insurance and no health insurance. He refuses to make a will or buy any insurance. He won't discuss it, and doesn't believe in insurance.
My concern is for my mother's financial future if something should happen to my father. At present they have a comfortable living and own save $225 a year out of her household money. Can she buy an insurance or invest in any way that would afford some protection for her future?
Could my husband and I take out a health insurance policy on my parents without my father's knowledge? Any information would be appreciated.
Mrs. E.M., North Henderson, Ill.
Dear Mrs. M.:
Even if your father doesn't believe in insurance — and more's the pity — maybe he will at least discuss Social Security. Being self-employed, your father is eligible for this security. If he is covered, find out how much money could be expected from that source, based on his income and period of coverage.
You might also consider the possibility of your mother's selling the house if she outlives your father — adding this money to what she has been able to save, and perhaps being able to afford living quarters in a senior's citizens project.
If she puts $225 a year in the savings bank, say at 4 per cent interest compounded semi-annually, in five years it would amount to $1,256; in seven years to $1,832 in ten years to $2,788. Of course if the interest rate should be higher, she could expect a little more.

As for taking out a health insurance policy on your parents, it wouldn't matter who paid the premiums. But generally speaking, a personal policy must be signed by the individual or individuals covered, stating the condition of health. So obviously your father would not only have to know about it, he'd have to agree to it.
Don't write your father off entirely as 100 per cent uncooperative. People do change their minds, you know. Perhaps some discussion in his presence, of your mother's savings, or the possibility of at some time selling their home may be the firecracker that explodes him into action. From what you tell me, practically any action on his part would be providential!
Dear Miss Feeley:
I enjoy your column very much. Here is a tip I would like to pass on, regarding an item recently printed in your column about sharing travel expenses.
I travel a lot, but usually with friends so we get a lot of mileage from our money. In sharing expenses we usually have a kitty, a specific amount from each traveler. Then when we buy ice, pay tolls, buy food to prepare or anything used equally by each of us, we take it out of the kitty. When it goes broke, we add another $10 or $20 each. When we have any left we also divide equally. It sure saves dividing up each bill or having someone pay the bulk

2 Valley Girls in French Poetry Test At Oshkosh State

Representing the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center at the French poetry contest at Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh were Miss Judith Clark, first year French student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Clark, route 1, Larsen, and Miss Kathy Kons, second year French student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob R. Kons, route 4, Appleton.
Miss Clark and Miss Kons both received high B ratings from the contest judges, professors on OSC faculty. The contest, held each year, is a competitive event of French students in the state, sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French of which Mrs. Louise Witherell of the Fox Valley Center is a participating member.
The Oshkosh competition was a regional semi-final for which Miss Clark and Miss Kons memorized and recited specified French poems.

of the expenses and someone else paying little.
When we eat out, we pay our own check, but our motel comes out of the kitty. We always use gas cards so at the end of the trip we compare sums paid for gas and balance out the total so each pays an equal amount.

Spending Balloons for 4-County Area in 1963

Statistics show that the four-county area of Outagamie, Waupaca, Winnebago and Calumet counties was a strong market during 1963 and spending was above that of previous years. The rise is credited to local consumers who gave business a push forward with increased purchases of goods and services.

The facts and figures are contained in the new market survey released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It indicates just how people in each area of the country apportioned their retail dollar during the fiscal year.

46 Per Cent

In Outagamie County, it shows, a large part of the dollar was used to buy cars, other automotive equipment and food. They accounted for 46 per cent of all retail spending locally.

Combined sales of these products in the year amounted to $61,130,000, as against the previous year's $57,702,000.

Some $38,420,000 of the total was garnered by stores selling food for home consumption.

Another $25,195,000 went for purchases of new and used cars, motorcycles, boats and other automotive equipment.

An additional $8,656,000 was spent in gas service stations.

Good business was also reported locally for most other retail lines.

General Merchandise

Sales of general merchandise, in department stores and variety stores, came to $18,756,000 in the year.

Apparel shops, defined as those specializing in articles for personal wear, grossed $6,786,000.

Sales of home furnishings, which include furniture, household appliances and other equipment, totaled $7,053,000.

Drug store sales amounted to $3,314,000.

Grand Total

The grand total for the fiscal year, taking into account all retail establishments in Outagamie County, was $133,735,000, an increase over the prior year's $126,067,000.

The following are the figures for the counties in the surrounding area showing the 1963 and the (1962) totals:

Calumet County — Food and cars, $9,109,000 ($8,717,000); total retail spending, $20,367,000 ($19,491,000).

Waupaca County — Food and cars, $25,589,000 ($24,395,000); total retail spending, $50,248,000 ($48,086,000).

Winnebago County — Food and cars, $66,310,000 ($63,994,000); total retail spending, $145,621,000 ($139,556,000).

Boycott of Washington Schools Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: SCHOOL BOYCOTT: A Negro leader has set April 20 for a one-day boycott of Washington public schools. He predicts half of the city's 133,000 public school pupils will participate.

Some 85.7 per cent of the district's public school pupils are Negroes.

Julius Hobson, southeast regional officer and Washington chairman of the Congress of Racial Equality, said Sunday that on two days, children will be brought in buses from crowded to under-capacity schools.

The week-long drive, Hobson said, will also include mass sit-ins and picketing aimed at equalizing and improving education in the capital.

FRANCE-SOUTHEAST ASIA: The French Foreign Minister says he doesn't believe the countries of Europe and the United States are prepared to fight a major war for Southeast Asia.

"Therefore we think that the solution is neutrality—not neutralism, neutrality," said Maurice Couve de Murville in a copyrighted interview published today in the magazine "U.S. News & World Report."

The alternative to neutrality in Southeast Asia, "in our opinion," he said, "would be communism rather than anything else."

Asked if he felt military solution is impossible, he replied: "I don't think that the situation in Southeast Asia can be maintained indefinitely by means of force."

TEACHERS PAY: Teachers of law received the highest salaries of all teachers in U.S. institutions of higher education during the 1962-63 school year, the Office of Education reports.

Median salaries for law teachers were $12,000 for the regular academic year—nine or 10 months—and about $12,400 for law teachers employed for an 11-month or 12-month year.

Median salary for all college and university teachers for the academic year was $7,700, and for the calendar year, $9,500.

Johnson, Lodge Top Student Poll

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (AP)—Students at Central Washington State College have nominated President Johnson and Henry Cabot Lodge for president in mock Democratic and Republican national conventions.

It took the Democrats three ballots and the Republicans five.

Johnson ended up with 313 votes to 30 for Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, and 27 for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama. Lodge got 225½ votes to 109½ for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

State Colleges Expect Record 64 Enrollments

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's nine state colleges report that they expect a record total enrollment of 11,500 for the 1964 summer sessions.

The colleges said Wednesday that the anticipated total would be 12 per cent more than the 10,821 enrolled for the 1963 summer session.

Each of the nine schools will conduct an eight-week summer session and Oshkosh also will offer a special 12-week session.

Rallying Cry

Negroes Adopt New Slogan — 'More in 1964'

BY REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

This is the second crisis year in the "Negro Revolution" and its leaders sound the rallying cry, "More in '64."

It is an election year—for President Johnson, for about one-third of the Senate, for the entire House of Representatives. Civil rights, the dominating domestic issue, can influence millions of votes, pro and con, North and South.

It is the 10th anniversary of the historic U.S. Supreme Court dictum outlawing segregation in the public schools.

Continued Pressure

Civil rights leaders say there will be no relaxation of pressures this year. In fact, they will increase, said the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Spike, executive director of the National Council of Churches' committee on religion and race.

More school boycotts have been scheduled for a number of Northern cities.

The Counteraction

As civil rights leaders increased the pressures, charges of "demagoguery" and "publicity seeking" came from both North and South, and whites and some Negroes. The street demonstrations and school boycotts stirred fears of a "backlash" of sentiment even among sympathizers of the movement.

A Negro judge, A. T. Walden of Atlanta said, "I am afraid there will be serious trouble or a real setback to progress unless the present disorders are stopped."

On Feb. 13, the 13 New York City branches of the NAACP voted to pull out from the city-wide committee for integrated representatives passed the most comprehensive package of civil rights legislation in history. The vote was 290-130. The package contains 11 "titles," affecting public education, voting rights, equal employment opportunity, public facilities etc. It empowers the attorney general to bring school desegregation suits.

Now the bill goes to the Senate where, because of the unlimited debate, the opposition is expected to be far more formidable.

On Feb. 13, the 13 New York City branches of the NAACP voted to pull out from the city-wide committee for integrated schools, sponsor of the Feb. 1 boycott in New York.

Negro leaders, while decrying some of the incidents that grew out of demonstrations, said nevertheless that this form of protest has been effective.

The Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, executive secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said most desegregation in Atlanta has resulted from court orders, demonstrations, or the threat of demonstrations—not voluntary action.

Civil rights leaders are aware that carrying the fight into the streets has cost the movement some sympathizers. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said there had been some resentment over the events of the summer of 1963. But he said it was a "temporary setback."

The Major Bi-Product

Some whites, while professing sympathy for the Negro movement, assert that "they are trying to go too far too fast." Negroes, on the other hand, are dissatisfied with the pace of desegregation in the schools since 1954, and scornful of what they call "tokenism" in the desegregation of public accommodations.

Between these two points of view, one development is obvious and highly significant: More people, white and Negro, are aware of the problems now than were a few years ago. More people in all sections of the country are concerned. More thought is being given to solutions.
